Digital inequality in a developing context Nobert R. Jere, Gardner Mwansa, Memory Ranga, Attlee M. Gamundani, Pardon B Maoneke, 2025-04-15 Digital inequality in a developing context A multifaceted approach critically explores the complex and persistent nature of the digital divide in South Africa addressing a notable gap in existing scholarship Drawing on secondary data the book examines how digital inequalities manifest across key sectors such as education healthcare and agriculture sectors vital to national development and individual well being These disparities are shaped by intersecting socio economic technical and geographical factors particularly the urban rural divide The volume underscores the importance of infrastructure development digital literacy affordability and equitable access as central to bridging the digital gap It argues that without targeted and sustained interventions in these areas digital inequality will continue to hinder socio economic progress and deepen existing structural inequalities This scholarly book offers fresh perspectives and practical insights for researchers policymakers and practitioners seeking to advance digital inclusion in developing contexts Innovation and Trends in the Global Food Systems, Dietary Patterns and Healthy Sustainable Lifestyle in the Digital Age, 2nd edition Maha Hoteit, Reema Faye Tayyem, Radwan Qasrawi, Haleama Al Sabbah, 2023-07-31 All aspects of feeding and nourishing people growing harvesting packaging processing transporting marketing and consuming food are part of the food system Even before the COVID 19 pandemic food systems faced many challenges such as hunger increases which affected up to 811 million people as of 2020 while healthy diets were unaffordable for at least 3 billion people More than 80% of the population affected by hunger and 95% of people unable to afford a healthy diet were found in Asia and Africa Transformation of the global food system is clearly needed if we wish to embed equity sustainability and health as priorities in food provision and consumption Some of these transformations will be facilitated through new technologies while others will require public policy shifts changes in the private agro food industry actions by civil society and behavioral changes by individuals In this dynamic context technology actors and the consumers they serve sit at an important nexus within the food system and have the potential to make decisions that cut across the challenges and opportunities to improve sustainable food system outcomes Although food security has improved in developed countries many countries particularly low to middle income countries LMIC suffer from significant food insecurity challenges In addition food production accessibility and availability have been further impacted due to the COVID 19 outbreak causing growing global concerns regarding food security especially within the most vulnerable communities Moreover the transformation of food systems for addressing healthy nutrition food insecurity and public health issues is a global concern Food security and nutrition systems are directly related to human well being and global stability particularly in a time when diets transition toward increased reliance upon processed foods increased fast food intake high consumption of edible oils and sugar sweetened beverages lack of physical activities and increased lifestyles worldwide These changes in lifestyle continue to contribute to the growing pandemic of non communicable diseases such as obesity diabetes hypertension and cardiovascular diseases are clearly noticed across the globe The study of nutrition systems food security and the roles of technological advances especially in LMIC is considered the major factor in understanding food transition and population health Physical inactivity threatens LMIC public health as it is a prime behavioral risk factor associated with major non communicable diseases such as coronary heart disease type 2 diabetes and breast and colon cancer Its long term impacts increasingly burden national economies Decreasing its prevalence is paramount toward decreasing premature mortality and restoring healthy populations In its most recent iteration of a global action plan for the prevention of non communicable diseases the World Health Organization established voluntary global targets to reduce physical inactivity by 10% Currently limited published systematic analysis of physical inactivity prevalence among Muslim majority countries exists Existing literature is concentrated on Arab countries which represent less than half of all Muslim nations To date however pan Islamic physical inactivity data have not been reported Doing so can potentially galvanize religion specific agencies e g Islamic Relief Worldwide Organization of Islamic Cooperation to support efforts aimed at decreasing physical inactivity

Novel Aspects on Epilepsy Humberto Foyaca-Sibat, 2011-10-12 This book covers novel aspects of epilepsy without ignoring its foundation and therefore apart from the classic issues that cannot be missing in any book about epilepsy we introduced novel aspects related with epilepsy and neurocysticercosis as a leading cause of epilepsy in developing countries We are looking forward with confidence and pride in the vital role that this book has to play for a new vision and mission Therefore we introduce novel aspects of epilepsy related to its impact on reproductive functions oral health and epilepsy secondary to tuberous sclerosis mitochondrial disorders and lisosomal storage disorders
