Monitoring Environmental Progress A Report on Work in Progress generated great interest in the use of indicators to measure the pace and direction of change in environmentally sustainable development In particular the attempts to define what it means to be wealthy or poor by recognizing that a countrys wealth is the combination of various forms of capital produced natural and human resources led to new thinking on what constitutes wealth and how it might be measured The current document Expanding the Measure of Wealth Indicators of Environmentally Sustainable Development extends the earlier analysis by highlighting portfolio indicators for tracking a countrys progress toward sustainable development These include new estimates of national wealth and genuine savings a detailed analysis of changes in subsidies that have environmental consequences and progress on the conceptual foundations of social capital The new estimates reinforce the importance of the natural resource base of all economies as well as the fundamental role of human resources including both human capital and the more difficult to define concept of social capital Sustainability Performance Evaluation System in Government Nan Chai, 2009-09-18 Progressing towards sustainable development raises important challenges to conducting performance evaluations in governments because there are neither generally accepted methods nor specific standards to be met at present Sustainability Performance Evaluation System in Government makes a conceptual contribution to public sustainability performance evaluation and develops a set of framework indicators with the help of the strategic and comprehensive approach Sustainability Balanced Scorecard As a conceptual basis for the further research and application this volume will be of great interest to researchers and practitioners at many levels of environmental sustainability public management and strategic control studies Evaluators will find methodological approaches and applied tools for their work Decision makers and managers will find it valuable to manage the social economic and environmental issues in a balanced and integrated manner Governments will also find it helpful in assisting them in establishing an evaluation system towards sustainable development
