Mental Health Services and Community Care Ian Cummins, 2020-04-24 This critical interdisciplinary study charts the modern history of mental health services reflects upon the evolution of care in communities and considers the most effective policies and practices for the future Starting with the development of community care in the 1960s Cummins explores the political economic and bureaucratic factors behind the changes and crises in mental health social care returning to those roots to identify progressive principles that can pave a sustainable pathway forward This is a groundbreaking contribution to debates about the role values and future of community care and is vital reading for students teachers and researchers in the field of social work and mental health

Integration of HIV Prevention with Sexual and Reproductive Health

Services Renee Heffron, Thesla Palanee-Phillips, 2023-03-13 The Political Economy of Mental Illness in South Africa André J van Rensburg, 2021-02-17 The book describes key socio political reforms that helped shape post apartheid South Africa s mental health system The author interrogates how reforms shaped public community based services for people living with severe mental illness and how features of this care has been determined in part at least by the relations between actors and structures in the state private for profit health care and civil society spheres A description of the development of South Africa s post apartheid health system and the contentions that emerge therein sets the stage for an analysis of the country s most tragic human rights failure during its democratic period namely the Life Esidimeni tragedy The roots of the tragedy are not only framed as a loss of life and dignity as a result of political corruption and administrative mismanagement but as a power differential that ultimately highlights an unjust system that relegates its most vulnerable citizens to commodities without voice and without agency The book concludes that the commodification of severe mental illness has been a product of neoliberal discourses that have shaped the economic ways in which the post apartheid South African state have governed poverty and severe mental illness This book will be of interest to scholars of health social and economic policy in South Africa

Urban agriculture in the Gauteng City-Region's green infrastructure network Eliana Camargo Nino, Sam Lane, Kanako Okano, Irvanu Rahman, Bo Peng, Hannah Benn, Christina Culwick Fatti, Gillian Maree, Samkelisiwe Khanyile, Dr Carla Washbourne, 2020-07-29 The aim of this occasional paper is to gain a better understanding of urban agriculture within the green infrastructure network in the City of Johannesburg and to identify the range of ecosystem services that could be delivered when maintaining and investing in these assets The analysis in this paper adopts a multi method approach to 1 identify the interlinkages between urban agriculture and social economic and environmental systems in the City of Johannesburg 2 validate these critical interlinkages with stakeholder input and ground level experience of urban agriculture and 3 visualise these interlinkages through a spatial analysis of food gardens in the City of Johannesburg

Gender and HIV in South Africa

Courtenay Sprague, 2018-03-16 This book addresses the ongoing problem of HIV in black South African women as a health inequity Importantly it argues that this urgent problem of justice is changeable Sprague uses the capabilities approach to bring a theory of health justice together with multiple sources of evidence to investigate the complex problem of HIV and accompanying poor health outcomes in black South African women Motivated by a concern for application of knowledge this work discusses how to better conceptualise what health justice demands of state and society and how to mobilise available evidence on health inequities in ways that compel greater state action to address problems of gender and health HIV in women and possible responses are investigated on four distinct levels conceptual social structure health systems and law The analysis demonstrates that this problem is indeed modifiable with long term interventions and an enhanced state response targeted at multiple levels This book will be of interest to academics and students in the social health sciences gender and development studies and global health as well as HIV health activists government officials policy makers HIV clinicians and health providers interested in HIV The Oxford Handbook of the South African Economy Arkebe Oqubay, Fiona Tregenna, Imraan Valodia, 2021 This Handbook provides a detailed and wide ranging coverage of the key economic questions in South Africa concentrating on the more recent economic challenges facing the country
