

PROBLEM 1: Axiom of Extensionality

The Axiom of Extensionality states that two sets are equal if and only if they have the same elements. In other words, if A and B are sets, then $A = B$ if and only if for every x , $x \in A$ if and only if $x \in B$. This axiom is fundamental to set theory and is used to prove many other theorems. For example, it can be used to prove that the empty set is unique, that the intersection of two sets is a set, and that the union of two sets is a set. It is also used to prove that the power set of a set is a set. The Axiom of Extensionality is one of the most important axioms in set theory and is a key part of the foundation of modern mathematics.

PROBLEM 2: Axiom of Choice
