Justice: Deconstruction and Hermeneutics Sema Cevirici Atilla,2025-05-01 The pursuit of justice is an unending journey It is the name of an impending promise that we always pray for hope for and sincerely desire but cannot quite see its fulfilment Justice always encourages openness to the future and refuses to be confined to a particular definition It occurs at different times with various demands and perspectives and it cannot be reduced to a single definition and a single norm This is precisely why this book consists of philosophical conversations that aim to expose the different faces of justice and to bring together the thoughts and concerns of thinkers talking about justice from different contexts The interviews address issues such as God ethics otherness anarchism the refugee crisis law democracy and human rights in the framework of their relation to justice The book is an invitation to everyone who wants to discuss the demands of justice in different contexts and witness the different faces of justice How Music Empowers Steven Gamble, 2021-03-15 How Music Empowers argues that empowerment is the key to unlocking the long standing mystery of how music moves us Drawing upon cutting edge research in embodied cognitive science psychology and cultural studies the book provides a new way of understanding how music affects listeners The argument develops from our latest conceptions of what it is to be human investigating experiences of listening to popular music in everyday life Through listening individuals have the potential to redefine themselves gain resilience connect with other people and make a difference in society Applying a groundbreaking theoretical framework to postmillennial rap and metal the book uncovers why vast numbers of listeners engage with music typically regarded as social problems or dismissed as extreme In the first ever comparative analytical treatment of rap and metal music twenty songs are analysed as case studies that reveal the empowering potential of listening The book details how individuals interact with rap and metal communities in a self perpetuating process which keeps these thriving music cultures and the listeners themselves alive and well Can music really change the world How Music Empowers answers yes because it changes us How Music Empowers will interest scholars and researchers of popular music ethnomusicology music psychology music therapy and music education Music at Michigan

, 1996 Music and Embodied Cognition Arnie Cox, 2016-09-06 Taking a cognitive approach to musical meaning Arnie Cox explores embodied experiences of hearing music as those that move us both consciously and unconsciously In this pioneering study that draws on neuroscience and music theory phenomenology and cognitive science Cox advances his theory of the mimetic hypothesis the notion that a large part of our experience and understanding of music involves an embodied imitation in the listener of bodily motions and exertions that are involved in producing music Through an often unconscious imitation of action and sound we feel the music as it moves and grows With applications to tonal and post tonal Western classical music to Western vernacular music and to non Western music Cox's work stands to expand the range of phenomena that can be explained by the role of sensory motor and affective aspects of human experience and cognition

Resounding the Rhetorical Byron Hawk, 2018-07-31 Resounding the Rhetorical offers an original critical and theoretical examination of composition as a quasi object As composition flourishes in multiple media digital sonic visual etc Byron Hawk seeks to connect new materialism with current composition scholarship and critical theory Using sound and music as his examples he demonstrates how a quasi object can and does materialize for communicative and affective expression and becomes a useful mechanism for the study and execution of composition as a discipline Through careful readings of Serres Latour Deleuze Heidegger and others Hawk reconstructs key concepts in the field including composition process research collaboration publics and rhetoric His work delivers a cutting edge response to the state of the field where it is headed and the possibilities for postprocess and postwriting composition and rhetoric
