

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

Table 1. Summary of the 1000 Genomes Project. The project is a collaborative effort by the International Genome Sample Consortium (IGSC) to generate a high-resolution reference human genome. The project is currently in its third phase, and the first two phases have produced a reference genome and a set of 1000 genomes. The third phase is currently underway, and the project is expected to produce a final reference genome and a set of 1000 genomes by the end of 2010.

These experimental observations are consistent with a mechanism involving a transition state in which the leaving group is partially bonded to the carbon atom. This is the same mechanism that has been proposed for the reaction of alkyl halides with nucleophiles.
