Primary Health Care in Tanzania through a Health Systems Lens Ntuli A. Kapologwe, James Tumaini Kengia, Eric van Praag, Japhet Killewo, Albino Kalolo, 2023-09-08 Robust health care systems are paramount for the health security and prosperity of people and countries as a whole. This book provides for the first time a chronicle of the struggle for and eventual success of universal health coverage UHC in Tanzania. Beginning with an introduction to primary health care in the country from its historical foundations to the major milestones of implementation, this book then considers stewardship of this important aspect of health systems over time. Concluding with a look to the future forecasting the changes and new solutions needed to adapt to a changing world, this book is a valuable reference for policy makers, global health practitioners, health system managers, researchers, students, and all those with an interest in primary health care and reforms both in Tanzania and beyond.

Digital Transformation in Public Sector Human Resource Management Shava, Elvin, Ndebele, Nduduzo, 2024-07-10 The advent of the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) has created a pressing need for digital transformation in human resources management (HRM) in public institutions. Traditional practices must be updated, preventing institutions from effectively managing their workforce and meeting stakeholder demands. The lack of digitalization leads to inefficiencies, ineffective performance evaluation, and an inability to adapt to the rapidly evolving technological landscape. This gap between existing HR practices and the demands of the digital age poses a significant challenge for public sector organizations Digital Transformation in Public Sector Human Resource Management offers a comprehensive solution to the challenges faced by public institutions The book provides practical insights and strategies for aligning HR practices with the modern technological landscape by exploring how digital transformation can revolutionize HRM processes It demonstrates the benefits of adopting digital technologies and innovative strategies in public sector HRM through real world examples and case studies The book guides public sector professionals policymakers and academics helping them navigate the complexities of digital transformation in HRM Resources in Education ,1999

Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, Judith Chapman, Michael Hatton, Yukiko Sawano, 2012-12-06 Recent changes in the world effected by the transformations of information technology globalisation and the move towards a knowledge economy over the last thirty years have been as radical and fundamental as the changes resulting from the invention of the wheel and the printing press We are now living in a new age in which the demands are so complex so multifarious and so rapidly changing that the only way in which we shall be able to survive them is by committing to a process of individual communal and global learning throughout the lifespan of all of us A number of international bodies and agencies have taken cognisance of these transformations and the demands they impose upon societies and communities of the twenty first century and have developed and articulated policies intended to enable all citizens of the world in the twenty first century to face these challenges It is now a declared policy of many governments and international agencies that the only vehicle for such preparation is education education education and that preparing for the knowledge economy and the learning society of the future has to be a lifelong undertaking an investment in the future that is not restricted merely to the domain of economic advancement but also to those of social inclusion and personal growth Realising this policy makers across the international arena are grappling with the need to move from systems that emphasise education and training to the radically more unworked construct of lifelong learning In this volume the editors and authors analyse criticise and rework the ideas principles and theories underpinning policies and programs of lifelong learning re interpreting them in the light of examples of best practice found in a range of educating institutions around the world We believe that students of educational change and community development will find it useful and helpful to have available in this volumesome of the most up to date thinking on the chief concepts theories and values of increasing policy interest in lifelong learning together with a review of some significant examples of the different forms focuses and nexuses of thought and practice on this topic All this enables us to offer some policy recommendations and practical suggestions as to ways forward in the endeavour to make lifelong learning a reality for all

Effectiveness of Anti-Corruption Agencies in East Africa: Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda
AfriMAP,2016-02-27 With reportedly over USD50 billion lost annually through graft and illicit practices combating corruption in Africa has been challenging However laws and policies at the continental regional and national levels have been promulgated and enacted by African leaders These initiatives have included the establishment of anti corruption agencies mandated to tackle graft at national level as well as coordinate bodies at regional and continental levels to ensure the harmonisation of normative standards and the adoption of best practices in the fight against corruption Yet given the disparity between the apparent impunity enjoyed by public servants and the anti corruption rhetoric of governments in the region the effectiveness of these agencies is viewed with scepticism This continent wide study of anti corruption agencies aims to gauge their relevance and effectiveness by assessing their independence mandate available resources national ownership capacities and strategic positioning These surveys include evidence based recommendations calling for stronger more relevant and effective institutions that are directly aligned to regional and continental anti corruption frameworks such as the African Union Convention on Preventing and Combating Corruption AUCPCC which the three countries in this current report Kenya Tanzania and Uganda have all ratified
