Individualization Institutionalized Individualism And Its Social And Political Consequences Paperback:

Individualization Ulrich Beck, Elisabeth Beck-Gernsheim, 2001-11-20 Individualization argues that we are in the midst of a fundamental change in the nature of society and politics This change hinges around two processes globalization and individualization The book demonstrates that individualization is a structural characteristic of highly differentiated societies and does not imperil social cohesion but actually makes it possible Ulrich Beck and Elisabeth Beck Gernsheim argue that it is vital to distinguish between the neo liberal idea of the free market individual and the concept of individualization The result is the most complete discussion of individualization currently available showing how individualization relates to basic social rights and also paid employment and concluding that in as much as basic rights are internalized and everyone wants to or must be economically active the spiral of individualization destroys the given foundations of social co existence

Liberalism and Chinese Economic Development Gilles Campagnolo, 2016-04-28 Liberalism and Chinese Economic Development brings international contributors together in order to consider economic political social and legislative aspects of China s modernization This volume explores how liberalism is received and perceived and whether it is adapted or adopted upon the basis of centuries of Chinese civilization and decades of capitalism China s role in the global economy is an undeniable force This book examines both historical and contemporary dimensions surrounding the question of Chinese liberalism exploring China s economic development in a comparative context In particular this text explores differences with the Western model and more specifically the relationship between Chinese economic thought and European traditions This text assesses China s economic development at both a macro and a micro level and also considers its relationship with its neighbours Campagnolo answers whether free trade and capitalistic economic developments are long sustainable without other types of liberal developments Or is the idea that political liberties and economic freedom are just Western ideologies This is a uniquely wide ranging book suitable for scholars of the Chinese economy the history of economic thought economic philosophy and international political economy

Food and the Self Isabelle de Solier, 2013-10-10 We often hear that selves are no longer formed through producing material things at work but by consuming them in leisure leading to meaningless modern lives This important book reveals the cultural shift to be more complex demonstrating how people in postindustrial societies strive to form meaningful and moral selves through both the consumption and production of material culture in leisure Focusing on the material culture of food the book explores these theoretical questions through an ethnography of those individuals for whom food is central to their self foodies It examines what foodies do and why they do it through an in depth study of their lived experiences The book uncovers how food offers a means of shaping the self not as a consumer but as an amateur who engages in both the production and consumption of material culture and adopts a professional approach which reveals the new moralities of productive leisure in self formation The chapters examine a variety of practices from fine dining and shopping to cooking and blogging and include rare data on how people use media such as cookbooks food television and digital food media in their everyday life This book is ideal for students scholars and anyone interested in the meaning of food in modern life      Your Place or Mine? Ethel Crowley, 2013-03-22 Ireland's economy is being scrutinised daily by everyone from politicians to pub goers but what about the deeper questions of Ireland's sense of identity and community Socially Ireland is in a period of rapid change is it time to get behind the numbers and look at who we really are In Your Place or Mine sociologist Ethel Crowley looks at our attitudes to home place family sexuality and community Do we still need the traditional forms of connection to home family community and locality in the highly globalised society in which we live Do we still like to stay within the heart of a familiar comfort zone or are we willing to push its boundaries Your Place or Mine captures some of the complexities of contemporary Ireland What is the impact of globalisation and multiculturalism Are community values really declining Despite a more liberal attitude to sexuality are we a liberal society Ethel Crowley mixes warm hearted biography and sociological rigour to create a set of reflections on finding our place in the world as a country and as individuals Crowley uses an exciting innovative approach to identify and describe the cultural transformations of contemporary Ireland Mixing personal memories with sociologically informed debate she provides an insightful and imaginative explanation of how Ireland has combined the local with the global Professor Tom Inglis School of Sociology University College Dublin      Families in an Era of Increasing Inequality Paul R. Amato, Alan Booth, Susan M. McHale, Jennifer Van Hook, 2014-10-07 The widening gap between the rich and the poor is turning the American dream into an impossibility for many particularly children and families And as the children of low income families grow to adulthood they have less access to opportunities and resources than their higher income peers and increasing odds of repeating the experiences of their parents Families in an Era of Increasing Inequality probes the complex relations between social inequality and child development and examines possibilities for disrupting these ongoing patterns Experts across the social sciences track trends in marriage divorce employment and family structure across socioeconomic strata in the U S and other developed countries These family data give readers a deeper understanding of how social class shapes children's paths to adulthood and how those paths continue to diverge over time and into future generations In addition contributors critique current policies and programs that have been created to reduce disparities and offer suggestions for more effective alternatives Among the topics covered Inequality begins at home the role of parenting in the diverging destinies of rich and poor children Inequality begins outside the home putting parental educational investments into context How class and family structure impact the transition to adulthood Dealing with the consequences of changes in family composition Dynamic models of poverty related adversity and child outcomes The diverging destinies of children and what it means for children's lives As new initiatives are sought to improve the lives of families and children in the short and long term Families in an Era of Increasing Inequality is a key resource for researchers and practitioners in family studies social work health education sociology demography and psychology      Young People, Wellbeing and Sustainable Arctic

Communities Florian Stammler, Reetta Toivanen, 2021-10-29 Youth are usually not yet decision makers in politics or in business corporations but the sustainability of Arctic settlements depends on whether or not youth envision such places as offering opportunities for a good future This is the first multidisciplinary volume presenting original research on Arctic youth This edited book presents the results of two research projects on youth wellbeing and senses of place in the Arctic region The contributions are united by their focus on agency Rather than seeing youth as vulnerable and possible victims of decisions by others they illustrate the diverse avenues that youth pursue to achieve a good life in the Arctic The contributions also show which social economic political and legal conditions provide the best frame for youth agency in Arctic settlements Rather than portraying the Arctic as a resource frontier a hotspot for climate change and a place where biodiversity and traditional Indigenous cultures are under threat the book introduces the Arctic as a place for opportunities the realization of life trajectories and young people's images of home Rooted in anthropology the chapters also feature contributions from the fields of sociology geography sustainability science legal studies and political science This book is intended for an audience interested in anthropology political science Arctic urban studies youth studies Arctic social sciences and humanities in general It would attract those working on Arctic sustainability wellbeing in the Arctic Arctic demography and overall wellbeing of youth

Handbook on Crime Fiona Brookman, Mike Maguire, Harriet Pierpoint, Trevor Bennett, 2010-02-01 The Handbook on Crime is a comprehensive edited volume that contains analysis and explanation of the nature extent patterns and causes of over 40 different forms of crime in each case drawing attention to key contemporary debates and social and criminal justice responses to them It also challenges many popular and official conceptions of crime This book is one of the few criminological texts that takes as its starting point a range of specific types of criminal activity It addresses not only conventional offences such as shoplifting burglary robbery and vehicle crime but many other forms of criminal behaviour often an amalgamation of different legal offences which attract contemporary media public and policy concern These include crimes committed not only by individuals but by organised criminal groups corporations and governments There are chapters on for example gang violence hate crime elder abuse animal abuse cyber crime identity theft money laundering eco crimes drug trafficking human trafficking genocide and global terrorism Many of these topics receive surprisingly little attention in the criminological literature The Handbook on Crime will be a unique text of lasting value to students researchers academics practitioners policy makers journalists and all others involved in understanding and preventing criminal behaviour

Diversity in family life Elisabetta Ruspini, 2013-06-19 As the variety and number of nontraditional families grow so does the need for new models of family and parenthood Diversity in Family Life discusses the relationship between shifting gender identities and the processes of family formation examining non traditional family structures including asexual couples child free couples living apart together couples single parents and homosexual and transsexual parents Calling for bold reformulations it argues that it is possible to live love and form a family in an astounding variety of ways

and the Daily Lives of China's Senior Citizens Chen Guo, 2025-08-12 Guo provides a comprehensive outlook of how digital media is transforming the daily lives of senior citizens in China. The book explores the important role digital media play in senior citizens' daily lives and the disparities of third agers' digital well-being. It applies the concepts of digital capital and individualisation to China and uses a combination of qualitative research including interviews with seniors and focus groups with recent data on media use, aging and demography. Its fieldwork with seniors conducted in a second-tier city of China provides insights on how the process of digitalisation has transformed seniors' daily lives. A valuable book for scholars and researchers in sociology, digital media, active aging, population, gerontology and China studies. Impacts of Mobile Use and Experience on Contemporary Society Xu, Xiaoge, 2019-03-22 As a popular and powerful medium, mobile use has increased significantly across the world. The effects of these communication devices have not only transformed how we communicate but also how we gather and distribute information in a variety of industries including healthcare, business and education. Impacts of Mobile Use and Experience on Contemporary Society provides cross-disciplinary research that ties together use and experience, examining the transformative influence of mobile technology and how it is reshaping who we are and what we do. Featuring research that investigates the impacts on both actors and activities with topic coverage that includes academic application, economic value and mobile learning, scholars from different disciplines from all over the world identify the crucial implications behind mobile technology. Included amongst the targeted audience are educators, policymakers, healthcare professionals, managers, academicians, researchers and practitioners. Adolescents in Contemporary Indonesia Lyn Parker, Pam Nilan, 2013-07-18 The youth demographic is a large and growing cohort in Indonesia and adolescents embody the currents of social change. Throughout the twentieth century they were significant agents of social protest leading to social and political transformation. This book looks at the importance of adolescents in contemporary Indonesia and how they are spearheading not just globalisation and a growing consumer youth culture but also the Islamisation movement. The book explores both the inner worlds and social selves of Indonesian adolescents. It presents an in-depth knowledge of Indonesian society and culture in various parts of Indonesia and discusses national patterns and trends. Grounded in two field sites, the book enables an analysis of young people's local ethnic and religious identities and their commitment to the Indonesian nation-state. It goes on to look at the physical age bracket of youth, the definitions used by the Indonesian state and other agencies and the perceptions of youth themselves about adolescence and adulthood. Providing a comprehensive study of young people in contemporary Indonesia, the book addresses gender relations, the importance of education for youth and youth engagement with popular culture and the moral issue concerning the sexual propriety of young people. It is a useful contribution for students and academics of Asian Studies, Sociology and Cultural Studies. "When Salary is not Enough..." Eckhard Dittrich, Heiko Schrader, 2015 Systemic change from a planned economy to a market society requires not only an implementation of market institutions but also the actions of people according to the

The Cinema of Me Alisa Lebow, 2012 When a filmmaker makes a film with herself as a subject she is already divided as both the subject matter of the film and the subject making the film The two senses of the word are immediately in play the matter and the maker thus the two ways of being subjectified as both subject and object Subjectivity finds its filmic expression not surprisingly in very personal ways yet it is nonetheless shaped by and in relation to collective expressions of identity that can transform the cinema of me into the cinema of we Leading scholars and practitioners of first person film are brought together in this groundbreaking collection to consider the theoretical ideological and aesthetic challenges wrought by this form of filmmaking in its diverse cultural geographical and political contexts

Foundations of International Political Economy Matthew Watson, 2017-09-16 Despite a burgeoning debate on substantive issues in IPE little attention has been devoted to its theoretical foundations In this important new text Matthew Watson reviews the main current theoretical approaches to IPE and highlights the problems that arise from treating states and markets as separate and contesting units of analysis Foremost among these problems is the lack of attention given to theorizing the constitution of the individual as both an economic agent and a moral being

Ulrich Beck Ulrich

Beck, 2014-03-22 This book presents Ulrich Beck one of the world's leading sociologists and social thinkers as a Pioneer in Cosmopolitan Sociology and Risk Society His world risk society theory has been confirmed by recent disasters events that have shaken modern society to the core signaling the end of an era in which comprehensive insurance could keep us safe Due to its own successes modern society now faces failure while in the past experiments were conducted in a lab now the whole world is a test bed Whether nuclear plants genetically modified organisms nanotechnology if any of these experiments went wrong the consequences would have a global impact and would be irreversible Beck recommends ignoring the mathematical morality of expert opinions which seek to identify the level of a given risk by calculating the probability of its occurrence Instead man's fear of collapse should offer an opportunity for international cooperation and a cosmopolitan turn in the social sciences
