Glicken, 2017-08-01 Straightforward and concise the second edition of A Guide to Writing for Human Service Professionals offers students and professionals practical tools to improve their writing In his animated and highly accessible teaching voice Glicken presents the rules of punctuation grammar and APA style in jargon free language that s easy to understand Chapters include detailed real world examples on how to write academic papers client assessments and evaluations business letters research proposals and reports papers for mass audiences requests for funding and much more Glicken provides the most comprehensive writing guide available in an engaging and digestible format including end of chapter exercises that allow readers to further practice their writing and critical thinking skills A Guide to Writing for Human Service Professionals is an invaluable resource for current and future human service professionals across social work psychology and counseling Updates to the Second Edition include New writing exercises in every chapter to help current and future human service professionals improve critical thinking and expository writing skills New discussion on social media writing cyberslang and writing articles for the mass media on issues related to the human services A greater emphasis on the difference between politically correct writing and writing that shows sensitivity to diversity Expanded coverage of critical thinking and writing conducting research and plagiarism New examples of resume writing business letters and reference letters Expanded discussion of the importance of writing clear mission statements and agency goals Network World , 2000-08-28 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Kansas Labor and Industrial Bulletin , 1931 Editor & Publisher , 1929 The fourth estate Fourth Estate , 1915 Building Gender Equity in the Academy Sandra Laursen, Ann E. Austin, 2020-11-24 An evidence based action oriented response to the persistent everyday inequity of academic workplaces Despite decades of effort by federal science funders to increase the numbers of women holding advanced degrees and faculty jobs in science and engineering they are persistently underrepresented in academic STEM disciplines especially in positions of seniority leadership and prestige Women filled 47% of all US jobs in 2015 but held only 24% of STEM jobs Barriers to women are built into academic workplaces biased selection and promotion systems inadequate structures to support those with family and personal responsibilities and old boy networks that can exclude even very successful women from advancing into top leadership roles But this situation can and must change In Building Gender Equity in the Academy Sandra Laursen and Ann E Austin offer a concrete data driven approach to creating institutions that foster gender equity Focusing on STEM fields where gender equity is most lacking Laursen and Austin begin by outlining the need for a systemic approach to gender equity Looking at the successful work being done by specific colleges and universities around the country they analyze twelve strategies these institutions have used to create more inclusive working environments including implementing inclusive recruitment and hiring practices addressing biased evaluation methods establishing equitable tenure and promotion processes strengthening accountability structures particularly among senior leadership improving unwelcoming department climates and cultures supporting dual career couples offering flexible work arrangements that accommodate personal lives promoting faculty professional development and advancement Laursen and Austin also discuss how to bring these strategies together to create systemic change initiatives appropriate for specific institutional contexts Drawing on three illustrative case studies at Case Western Reserve University the University of Texas at El Paso and the University of Wisconsin Madison they explain how real institutions can strategically combine several equity driven approaches thereby leveraging their individual strengths to make change efforts comprehensive Grounded in scholarship but written for busy institutional leaders Building Gender Equity in the Academy is a handbook of actionable strategies for faculty and administrators working to improve the inclusion and visibility of women and others who are marginalized in the sciences and in academe more broadly
