1. Abstract: This paper presents a new method for the analysis of the structure of the human brain. The method is based on the analysis of the connectivity of the brain regions. The results show that the method is able to identify the main components of the brain network and to analyze their changes in different conditions. The method is applied to the analysis of the brain network in different conditions, such as the analysis of the brain network in different states of consciousness, the analysis of the brain network in different states of emotion, and the analysis of the brain network in different states of cognition. The results show that the method is able to identify the main components of the brain network and to analyze their changes in different conditions.
