BASIC MANAGERIAL ACCOUNTING CONCEPTS

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Cost is the amount of cash or cash equivalent sacrificed for goods and/or services that are expected to bring a current or future benefit to the organization. An expense is an expired cost; the benefit has been used up.
2. Accumulating costs is the way that costs are measured and recorded. Assigning costs is linking costs to some cost object. For example, a company accumulates or tracks costs by entering them into the general ledger accounts. Direct materials would be entered into the materials account; direct labor would be entered into the direct labor account. Then, these costs are assigned to units of product.
3. A cost object is something for which you want to know the cost. For example, a cost object may be the human resources department of a company. The costs related to that cost object might include salaries of employees of that department, telephone costs for that department, and depreciation on office equipment. Another example is a customer group of a company. Atlantic City and Las Vegas casinos routinely treat heavy gamblers to free rooms, food, and drink. The casino owners know the benefits yielded by these high rollers and need to know the costs of keeping them happy, such as the opportunity cost of lost revenue from the rooms, the cost of the food, and so on.
4. A direct cost is one that can be traced to the cost object, typically by physical observation. An indirect cost cannot be traced easily and accurately to the cost object. The same cost can be direct for one purpose and indirect for another. For example, the salaries paid to purchasing department employees in a factory are a direct cost to the purchasing department but an indirect cost (overhead) to units of product.
5. Allocation means that an indirect cost is assigned to a cost object using a reasonable and convenient method. Since no causal relationship exists, allocating indirect costs is based on convenience or some assumed linkage.
6. A product is tangible in that you can see, feel, and take it with you. Examples of products include a tube of toothpaste, a car, or an orange. A service is a task or an activity performed for a customer. For example, the dental hygienist who cleans your teeth provides a service.
7. Manufacturing overhead includes all product costs other than direct materials and direct labor. It is because the remaining manufacturing (product) costs are gathered into one category that overhead is often thought of as a "catchall."
8. Direct materials purchases are first entered into the materials inventory. They may or may not be used during the month. Only when the materials are withdrawn from inventory for use in production are they known as "direct materials."
9. Prime cost is the sum of direct materials and direct labor. Conversion cost is the sum of direct labor and overhead. Total product cost consists of direct materials, direct labor, and overhead. This is not equal to the sum of prime cost and conversion cost because then direct labor would be double counted.
