Waff, 2007-07-10 Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents' Lives Second Edition focuses on exploring the impact of young people's identity making practices in mediating their perceptions of themselves as readers and writers in an era of externally mandated reforms What is different in the Second Edition is its emphasis on the importance of valuing adolescents perspectives in an era of skyrocketing interest in improving literacy instruction at the middle and high school levels driven by externally mandated reforms and accountability measures A central concern is the degree to which this new interest takes into account adolescents personal social and cultural experiences in relation to literacy learning In this new edition of Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents Lives students voices and perspectives are featured front and center in every chapter Particular attention is given throughout to multiple literacies especially how information and new communication technologies are changing learning from and with text Nine of the 15 chapters are new all other chapters are thoroughly updated The volume is structured around four main themes Situating Adolescents Literacies addressing how young people use favorite texts to perform their identities how they counter school based constructions of incompetence and how they re construct their literate identities in relation to certain kinds of gendered expectations pedagogies and cultural resources Positioning Youth as Readers and Writers stressing the importance of classroom discourse cultural capital agency and democratic citizenship in mediating adolescents literate identities Mediating Practices in Young People s Literacies looking at issues of language social class race and culture in shaping how adolescents represent themselves and are represented by others and Changing Teachers Teaching capturing the productive ambiguities associated with teaching urban adolescents to read and write in changing times encouraging students to conduct action research on topics that are personally relevant and using enabling constraints as a concept to formulate policies on adolescent literacy instruction Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents Lives Second Edition is an essential volume for researchers faculty teacher educators and graduate students in the field of adolescent literacy education

This handbook reviews efforts to increase the use of empirical methods in studies of the aesthetic and social effects of literary reading The reviewed research is expansive including extension of familiar theoretical models to novel domains e g educational settings enlarging empirical efforts within under represented research areas e g child development and broadening the range of applicable quantitative and qualitative methods e g computational stylistics phenomenological methods Especially challenging is articulation of the subtle aesthetic and social effects of literary artefacts e g poetry film Increasingly the complexity of these effects is addressed in multi variate studies including confirmatory factor analysis and structural equation modeling While each chapter touches upon the historical background of a specific research topic two chapters address the area s historical background and guiding philosophical assumptions Taken together the material in this volume provides a systematic introduction to the area for early career professionals while challenging active researchers to develop theoretical frameworks and empirical procedures that match the complexity of their research objectives

Greater Expectations Robin Turner, 2023-10-10 While the population of Hispanic Latino and African American students in the United States continues to grow the rate at which they attend college remains alarmingly small

These students who are often defined as educationally underrepresented are a bellwether of a shortcoming in our nation's educational system that has serious implications for the future. In Greater Expectations: Teaching Academic Literacy to Underrepresented Students, author and teacher Robin Turner offers pragmatic, proven methods for better preparing underrepresented students for higher education. Forming the book's foundations are the ideas of familia and cariño or family and caring. Familia asserts the importance of establishing a sense of community and tapping into student culture, ethnicity, music, sports, neighborhood, and so on in the language arts classroom. Cariño contends that underrepresented students possess attributes that are overlooked and are viewed with a deficit model paradigm. Building on this foundation, Greater Expectations shows how to effectively teach different modes of academic discourse: literary analysis, autobiographical, biographical, persuasive research, and community-based writing. Offering a combination of personal narrative, how-to lesson plans, and student samples, Turner challenges readers to approach their underrepresented students with greater expectations and be equipped with specific lesson plans to enable their classes to meet them. The book is grounded in and inspired by Turner's experience as a leader in the Puente Project, a college preparation program started in California high schools over twenty years ago. Since 1981, Puente has proven highly effective in producing positive change by improving academic performance, standardized test scores, and college admission rates for underrepresented students.

Ends of Assimilation John Alba Cutler, 2015-01-02 Ends of Assimilation examines how Chicano literature imagines the conditions and costs of cultural change, arguing that its thematic preoccupation with assimilation illuminates the function of literature. John Alba Cutler shows how mid-century sociologists advanced a model of assimilation that ignored the interlinking of race, gender, and sexuality and characterized American culture as homogeneous, stable, and exceptional. He demonstrates how Chicano literary works from the postwar period to the present understand culture as dynamic and self-consciously promote literature as a medium for influencing the direction of cultural change. With original analyses of works by canonical and noncanonical writers from Américo Paredes, Sandra Cisneros, and Jimmy Santiago Baca to Estela Portillo Trambley, Alfredo V. A. and Patricia Santana, Ends of Assimilation demands that we reevaluate assimilation literature and the very language we use to talk about culture.

The Power of Storytelling in Teaching Practices Dean A. F. Gui, Dora Wong, 2023-11-30 Featuring storytelling as a central theme, this book examines the role of narrative inquiry in social processes of establishing teacher knowledge and identity to provide new insights into the role of storytelling in education's teaching and learning paradigm. Gui and Wong engage with a body of academics, creative writers, and researchers looking at the role of storytelling in Hong Kong education. The book is split into three sections of storytelling: introspective, agentive, and collaborative. Examining personal accounts of teachers using storytelling to reflect on and transform feelings, the authors reconstruct the traditional pedagogical and learner practices into new opportunities for civic participation and generative community practices. With attention to educators who make use of collaborative experiences to develop narrative approaches and foster community identities, the chapters explore existing pedagogical creative and scholarly literature for re purposing narratives teacher transformation and learner participation With the use of autoethnographic accounts this book s innovative approach to storytelling will appeal to professional educators teachers and researchers in the fields of literacy narrative inquiry and creative writing Scholars engaging with reflexive participatory and collaborative modes of teaching and learning will find this an essential read
