laboratory experiments and numerical simulations reflect the multiple approaches to understanding Earth's surfaces and summaries of outstanding research questions highlight future challenges and suggest productive new avenues for research. Our future ability to adapt to geomorphic changes in the critical zone very much hinges upon how well landform scientists comprehend the dynamics of Earth's diverse surfaces. This Treatise on Geomorphology provides a useful synthesis of the state of the discipline as well as highlighting productive research directions that Educators and students researchers will find useful. Geomorphology has advanced greatly in the last 10 years to become a very interdisciplinary field. Cardiovascular CV drugs are an important group of drugs with potential risk of developing ACDR especially in elderly as marketing of more new drugs and their prescription continue to increase. However like with most other drugs the exact incidence of cutaneous side effects from CV drugs is difficult to estimate due to sporadic reporting. Moreover a reliable designation of a certain drug as the cause of a certain type of reaction can rarely be made. Apart from the well known angioedema urticaria from ACE inhibitors lichen planus lichenoid reaction from beta adrenergic blockers and photosensitivity from thiazid diuretics ACDR from CV drugs might be seen in a wide spectrum extending to rare but life threatening conditions such as erythroderma Stevens Johnson syndrome toxic epidermal necrolysis or drug hypersensitivity syndrome. In this comprehensive review the reported types of ACDR to CV drugs will be discussed according to drug class and the type of dermatologic reaction with special emphasize on cross reactions and the role of patch testing in diagnosis
