Role of Lipids in Virus Assembly Jamil S. Saad, Delphine M. Muriaux, 2015-07-28 RNA enveloped viruses comprise several families belonging to plus and minus strand RNA viruses such as retroviruses flavoviruses and orthomyxoviruses. Viruses utilize cellular lipids during critical steps of replication like entry, assembly and egress. Growing evidence indicates important roles for lipids and lipid nanodomains in virus assembly. This special topic covers key aspects of virus membrane interactions during assembly and egress, especially those of retroviruses and Ebola virus. EBOV Virus assembly and release involve specific and nonspecific interactions between viral proteins and membrane compartments. Retroviral Gag proteins assemble predominantly on the PM. Despite the great progress in identifying the factors that modulate retroviral Gag assembly on the PM, there are still gaps in our understanding of precise mechanisms of Gag membrane interactions. Studies over the last two decades have focused on the mechanisms by which other retroviral Gag proteins interact with membranes during assembly. These include human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), Rous sarcoma virus (RSV), equine infectious anemia virus (EIAV), Mason-Pfizer monkey virus (M-PMV), murine leukemia virus (MLV), and human T-lymphotropic virus type 1 (HTLV-1). Additionally, assembly of filoviruses such as EBOV also occurs on the inner leaflet of the PM. The articles published under this special topic highlight the latest understanding of the role of membrane lipids during virus assembly, egress, and release.

Biology, Chemistry and Applications of Apocarotenoids Siva Ramamoorthy, Renata Rivera Madrid, C. George Priya Doss, 2020-11-19. Carotenoids are a large class of isoprenoid pigments produced by plants and certain microbes. More than 700 naturally occurring carotenoids have been identified. Apocarotenoids are tailored from carotenoids by oxidative enzymes. Apocarotenoids act as visual or volatile signals to attract pollinating and seed dispersal agents. They are also the key players in allelopathic interactions and plant defense. Biology, Chemistry and Applications of Apocarotenoids provides a detailed account of the fundamental chemistry of apocarotenoids and the basic methods used in carotenoid research and critical discussions of the biochemical functions and applications of these important compounds. Topics covered in the proposed book include various aspects of the roles of apocarotenoids in colour and colouration, photosynthesis, and other photofunctions and protection. The formation and roles of carotenoid metabolites and breakdown products as perfume/aroma compounds are also outlined. Features: Provides an organized overview of apocarotenoids and their chemistry and biological functions. Focuses on recent discoveries on apocarotenoids, their nature, and functions. Details potential uses of apocarotenoids in agriculture, pharmacy, food industry, and apocarotenoid production at industrial level. This book has been written by leading experts in apocarotenoid research and gives a comprehensive overview on the diversity of apocarotenoid compounds and would serve as a reference book for researches in Plant Physiology, Molecular Biology, Biochemistry, Biophysics, and Medicine.
