The Impact of Emerging Economies on Global Energy and the Environment Bruce M. Bagley, Hanna Samir Kassab, Dina Moulioukova, 2015-11-09 Changing patterns of energy production and consumption are transforming the geopolitics of the global system. The BRICS countries (Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa) not discussed in this volume, a loose conglomeration of emerging powers, are part of the change, as are Western powers. Variations in the energy policies of the Americas, especially the United States and Canada, are altering existing dynamics. Both states are increasing energy production and are projected to become energy independent in the very near future. The BRICS themselves wield much energy power as well. Specifically, Russia's oil policy and China's coal policy are creating for the world a new infrastructure within which middle and weaker countries may consider as the future. This edited volume summarizes our analysis with particular emphasis on the rapidly changing role of the BRICS in the world's energy system. In this collection, energy experts and international relations analysts examine production and consumption of states, the exportation and importation of energy, and alternative strategies for maintaining the international order or changing the international order.

Nuclear Weapons Stuart Casey-Maslen, 2021-11-04 A new nuclear arms race is underway between Russia and the United States, one that focuses on the technology of delivery of nuclear warheads. This book describes how and why this race is happening, who still possesses nuclear weapons, and what constraints apply to those weapons under international law. A global nuclear ban treaty entered into force in January 2021, but the nuclear powers kept distant. The last remaining treaty restraining the arsenals of the two nuclear superpowers will expire in less than five years' time, and the risk is that other States will turn to nuclear arms for their defence, further fracturing the non-proliferation regime installed after the Cuban missile crisis.

Rethinking Revolution Leo Panitch, Greg Albo, 2016-12-01 One hundred years ago, October 1917 galvanized leftists and oppressed peoples around the globe and became the lodestar for 20th century politics. Today, the left needs to reckon with this legacy and transcend it. Social change, as it was understood in the 20th century, appears now to be as impossible as revolution, leaving the left to rethink the relationship between capitalist crises, as well as the conceptual tension between revolution and reform. Populated by an array of passionate thinkers and thoughtful activists, Rethinking Revolution reappraises the historical effects of the Russian revolution, positive and negative, on political, intellectual, and cultural life, and
