The Rise and Decline of Fundamental Rights in EU Citizenship Adrienne Yong, 2019-03-21 This book argues that there is an inherent relationship between EU fundamental rights and EU citizenship they both have the same objective of guaranteeing protection for the individual This is underpinned by the development of case law in the field by the Court of Justice of the EU CJEU Here however the author proposes that that relationship has weakened in recent years as the CJEU has entered increasingly sensitive territory in regard to the protection of citizenship rights and fundamental rights Writing in the post UK EU referendum environment the author argues that this decline is attributable to increasing Euroscepticism which has worsened since the Eurozone crisis and even more so in light of Brexit and arguments made that leaving the EU would reduce immigration This argument is particularly important to note given the rising fears of immigration that underlie much of the dissatisfaction with the EU project a feeling prevalent not only in the UK The chapters look at the rights of migrant EU citizens in Member States other than their own and the guarantees that exist as a matter of protecting their fundamental human rights which are present alongside rights enjoyed as part of being an EU citizen

Resource Nationalism and Energy Policy David R. Mares, 2022-10-04 It is widely thought that state ownership of natural resources oil and natural gas in particular causes countries to fall under the sway of the resource curse In such cases governments allegedly display resource nationalism which destabilizes the economy society and politics In this book David R Mares dispels these beliefs and develops a powerful new account of the relationship between state resource ownership and energy policy Mares examines variations in energy policy across a wide range of countries underscoring the fact that in most of the world outside the United States subsoil natural resources are owned by the state He considers the history of Latin American oil and gas policies and provides an in depth analysis of Venezuela from 1989 to 2016 before during and after the presidency of Hugo Chavez Mares demonstrates that the key factors that influence energy policy are the inclusiveness of the political system the level of competitiveness within policy making and the characteristics of individual leaders Domestic politics not state ownership determines the effectiveness and efficiency of energy policies the resource curse is avoidable Drawing on these findings Mares reconceptualizes resource nationalism arguing that government intervention into resource extraction is legitimate as long as the benefits are shared through the provision of public goods Featuring a sophisticated grasp of both Latin American politics and energy policy this book sheds new light on why some governments are responsible stewards of natural resources while others appropriate national wealth for partisan or private benefit Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b \(Set\) Union of International Associations, 2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events Proceedings on 18th International Conference on Industrial Systems - IS'20 Bojan Lalic, Danijela Gracanin, Nemanja Tasic, Nenad Simeunović, 2022-05-23 This book proposes theoretically developed and practically tested solutions for manufacturing and business improvements achieved in the period between two conferences It enables presentation of new knowledge and exchange of practical experience in industrial systems engineering and management It brings together prominent researchers and practitioners from faculties scientific institutes and different enterprises or other organizations This is the 18th edition of the conference The Department of Industrial Engineering and Management at the Faculty of Technical Sciences in Novi Sad organizes a scientific conference on industrial systems engineering and management field of science and practice once in three years
