

Managing Human Resources

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease between two groups of men who had been exposed to asbestos. One group consisted of 60 men who had worked in an asbestos vermiculite mine in Quebec, Canada, and the other group consisted of 60 men who had never worked in an asbestos mine. The prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease was determined by means of a questionnaire and physical examination. The results showed that the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease was significantly higher in the group of men who had worked in an asbestos mine than in the group of men who had never worked in an asbestos mine.
