Star Gazing Jackie Stacey,2013-11-05 In a historical investigation of the pleasures of cinema Star Gazing puts female spectators back into theories of spectatorship Combining film theory with a rich body of ethnographic research Jackie Stacey investigates how female spectators understood Hollywood stars in the 1940 s and 1950 s Her study challenges the universalism of psychoanalytic theories of female spectatorship which have dominated the feminist agenda within film studies for over two decades Drawing on letters and questionnaires from over three hundred keen cinema goers Stacey investigates the significance of certain Hollywood stars in women s memories of wartime and postwar Britain Three key processes of spectatorship escapism identification and consumption are explored in detail in terms of their multiple and changing meanings for female spectators at this time Star Gazing demonstrates the importance of cultural and national location for the meanings of female spectatorship giving a new direction to questions of popular culture and female desire

Mass Production of Beneficial Organisms Juan A. Morales-Ramos,M. Guadalupe Rojas,David I.

Shapiro-Ilan,2013-10-08 Mass Production of Beneficial Organisms Invertebrates and Entomopathogens is an essential reference and teaching tool for researchers in developed and developing countries working to produce natural enemies in biological control and integrated pest management programs As we become aware of the negative impact of pesticides in human health and on the environment interest is rapidly increasing in developing biological pest control alternatives Tremendous advances have been made in beneficial organism technology such as insect predators and parasitoids mite predators entomopathogenic nematodes fungi bacteria and viruses However developing techniques to mass produce these biological control agents is not enough if the cost of commercialization is prohibitive Advancing mass production to the level of economic feasibility is critical so these new technologies can compete in the open market This book educates academic and industry researchers and enables further development of mass production so new technologies can compete in the open market It is also an excellent resource for those researching beneficial arthropod mass production and technologies for other uses including for study and application in biotechnology and biomedical research Focuses on techniques for mass production of beneficial organisms and methods of evaluation and quality assessment Organizes and presents the most advanced and current knowledge on methods to mass produce beneficial organisms in response to the increased global demand for alternatives to chemical pesticides for biological control producers Includes a team of highly respected editors and authors with broad expertise in these areas     Hi-fi News ,2007     Surveyor and Municipal and County Engineer ,1922     An Index of U.S. Voluntary Engineering Standards, Supplement 1 William J.
