Dionysus, Christ, and the Death of God, Volume 2 Giuseppe Fornari, 2020-09-01 This magisterial reflection on the history and destiny of the West compares Greco Roman civilization and the Judeo Christian tradition in order to understand what both unites and divides them Mediation understood as a collective symbolic experience gives society unity and meaning putting human beings in contact with a universal object known as the world or reality But unity has a price the very force that enables peaceful coexistence also makes us prone to conflict As a result in order to find a common point of convergence of at one moment someone must be sacrificed Sacrifice then is the historical pillar of mediation It was endorsed in a cosmic religious sense in antiquity and rejected for ethical reasons in modernity where the Judeo Christian tradition plays an intermediate role in condemning sacrificial violence as such while accepting sacrifice as a voluntary act offered to save other human beings Today as we face the collapse of all shared mediations this intermediating solution offers a way out of our moral and cultural plight

Time and Narrative, Volume 2 Paul Ricoeur, 2012-08-04. In volume 1 of this three-volume work, Paul Ricoeur examined the relations between time and narrative in historical writing. Now in volume 2, he examines these relations in fiction and theories of literature. Ricoeur treats the question of just how far the Aristotelian concept of plot in narrative fiction can be expanded and whether there is a point at which narrative fiction as a literary form not only blurs at the edges but ceases to exist at all. Though some semiotic theorists have proposed all fiction can be reduced to an atemporal structure, Ricoeur argues that fiction depends on the reader's understanding of narrative traditions which do evolve but necessarily include a temporal dimension. He looks at how time is actually expressed in narrative fiction, particularly through use of tenses, point of view, and voice. He applies this approach to three books that are, in a sense, tales about time: Virginia Woolf's Mrs Dalloway, Thomas Mann's Magic Mountain, and Marcel Proust's Remembrance of Things Past. Ricoeur writes the best kind of philosophy: critical, economical, and clear.

Eugen Weber, New York Times Book Review. A major work of literary theory and criticism under the aegis of philosophical hermeneutics. I believe that it will come to have an impact greater than that of Gadamer's Truth and Method; a work it both supplements and transcends in its contribution to our understanding of the meaning of texts and their relationship to the world.

Robert Detweiler, Religion and Literature. One cannot fail to be impressed by Ricoeur's encyclopedic knowledge of the subject under consideration. To students of rhetoric, the importance of Time and Narrative is all too evident to require extensive elaboration.

Dilip Parameshwar Gaonkar, Quarterly Journal of Speech.
