Promoting Service Leadership Qualities in University Students Daniel T.L. Shek, Po Chung, 2015-08-20

This book outlines the development of service leadership curricula programs and materials designed for university students in Hong Kong In addition it includes evaluation studies and specific service leadership programs making it a pioneering book that integrates service leadership and student wellbeing for Chinese university students In view of the transformation of industries resulting in shifts from manufacturing economies to service economies the book takes a holistic approach to leadership development focusing on three basic components of effective service leadership that are closely related to student wellbeing leadership competencies such as emotional intelligence and resilience moral character and a caring disposition This approach represents a move away from literature that emphasizes the elite leadership model assuming that leadership is the privilege of a talented few By extension it argues that the promotion of service leadership qualities is a good strategy for promoting student wellness The individual chapters are extended versions of papers presented at the International Conference on Service Leadership Education for University Students Experience in Hong Kong which was held in May 2014 The book offers a valuable contribution to Chinese and global academic literature on service leadership and will benefit researchers and educators alike
