The West African Methodist Collegiate School, 1911-2021 Christopher E. S. Warburton, 2021-12-22 The West African Methodist Collegiate School 1911 2021 presents an intricate analysis of challenging missionary work in Sierra Leone and West Africa In meticulous detail the book revisits an era that spans the slave trade and the manumission of slaves and examines the ways that missionaries helped to educate former slaves and free men for a viable form of existence The checkered history of the school chronicles the adversities courage and determination of men who dared to preserve an educational institution that was designed to provide religious and secular education In more elaborate terms the book reveals how changing circumstances and conditions of the twenty first century can obscure a nineteenth century concept when socioeconomic challenges and the vicissitudes of war and epidemics become too overpowering

Nigerian Languages, Literatures, Culture and Reforms Ndimele, Ozo-mekuri, 2016-04-30 The papers in this volume were selected from the Silver Jubilee edition of the Annual Conference of the Linguistic Association of Nigerian LAN which was held at the Nigerian Educational Research and Development Council NERDC Abuja Nigeria The Silver Jubilee edition is dedicated to the father of Nigerian Linguistics Professor Emeritus Ayo Bamgbose Professor Emeritus Bamgbose was the first indigenous Professor of Linguistics in Nigeria and the first black African to teach linguistics in any known university south of the Sahara He was there from the very beginning and together with co operation of people such as the late Professor Kay Williamson he nurtured Nigerian linguistics He is not just a foremost Nigerian linguist but also a most famous respected celebrated distinguished and cherished African linguist of all times To be candid Nigerian linguistics is synonymous with Professor Emeritus Bamgbose In 58 well written chapters by experts in their fields the book covers aspects of Nigerian languages linguistics literatures and culture The papers have not been categorized into sections rather they flow hence there is some overlapping in the arrangement The book is an essential resource for all who are interested to learn about current trends in the study of languages linguistics and related subject matters in Nigeria The Oxford Handbook of Children's Musical Cultures Patricia Shehan Campbell, Trevor

Boadu-Ayeboah, 2006-10-18 Essays on Language in Societal Transformation Tunde Opeibi, Josef Schmied, Tope Omoniyi, Kofo Adedeji, 2015-01-30 This paper generally lends support to the arguments advanced by Awonusi 1989 1990 2004 and others in favour of an endonormative as opposed to an exonormative standard for English pronunciation in Nigeria They include the fact that the existing exonormative standard British Received Pronunciation RP has undergone and is still undergoing changes in its homeland and is not homogeneous The heightened social mobility of today's world perhaps works against the demarcation and homogenization of language varieties and this is all the more true of the varieties or lects that have been proposed for Nigerian English when these are related more or less explicitly to educational attainment Major attention is given in the paper to a schema of basilect mesolect and acrolect presented by Ugorji 2010 with a focus on his account of vowels and his presentation of a mechanism derived from optimality theory for evaluating vowels in contention The basilect and the mesolect are found to be so close to each other that they might be combined There would then be just two varieties In contrast the acrolect is close to British RP albeit with many variants due to the conflict of two standardising forces i.e. British RP and the basilect mesolect The vowel system of an officially adopted endonormative standard Nigerian RP would mainly be the same as that of British RP but the optimality mechanism could be employed to give preference to some of the Nigerian variants for inclusion in it Agricultural Perspectives on Water Resource Management in the
