Innovations and Challenges in Grammar Michael Mccarthy,2020-05-19 Innovations and Challenges in Grammar traces the history of common understandings of what grammar is and where it came from to demonstrate how rules are anything but fixed and immutable In doing so it deconstructs the notion of correctness to show how grammar changes over time thereby exposing the social and historical forces that mould and change usage The questions that this book grapples with are Can we separate grammar from the other features of the language system and get a handle on it as an independent entity Why should there be strikingly different notions and models of grammar Are they in compatible Which one or ones fit s best the needs of applied linguists if we assume that applied linguists address real world problems through the lens of language And which one s could make most sense to non specialists If grammar is not a fixed entity but a set of usage norms in constant flux how can we persuade other professionals and the general public that this is a positive observation rather than a threat to civilised behaviour This book draws upon both historical and modern grammars from across the globe to provide a multi layered picture of world grammar It will be useful to teachers and researchers of English as a first and second language though the inclusion of examples from and occasional references to other languages French Spanish Malay Swedish Russian Welsh Burmese Japanese is intended to broaden the appeal to teachers and researchers of other languages It will be of use to final year undergraduate postgraduate and doctoral students as well as secondary and tertiary level teachers and researchers in applied linguistics second language acquisition and grammar pedagogy

Cognitive Approaches to English Mario

Brdar, Marija Omazić, Višnja Pavičić Takač, 2009-12-14 The present volume contains a selection of papers presented at the conference Cognitive Approaches to English an international event organized to mark the 30th anniversary of English studies at the Faculty of Philosophy Josip Juraj Strossmayer University Osijek which was held in Osijek on October 18 19 2007 The participants were invited to discuss issues in cognitive accounts of English ranging from fundamental to methodological to interdisciplinary and applied The volume is accordingly divided into four parts Part I Motivation in grammar deals with various phenomena in the grammar of English in the broadest sense of the term all of which are shown to be motivated by metaphorical and or metonymic operations Part II Constructing meaning between grammar and lexicon contains five chapters dealing with phenomena ranging from various peculiarities of form meaning pairings such as synonymy polysemy and figurative meanings to concept formation The four chapters that make up Part III are concerned with the phenomenon of interlinguistic and intercultural variation in the use of metaphorical and metonymic processes The volume is concluded by Part IV the three papers of which attempt to reconsider some TEFL issues from a cognitive linguistic point of view
