How To Apply For Dd Mabuza Foundation:

There is no Supreme Constitution Koos Malan, 2019-10-08 None of the articles of faith of the South African Constitution is plausible The Constitution is not supreme and entrenched Subject to potent socio political forces it changes continuously and often profoundly regardless of stringent amendment requirements The trite threefold separation of powers is more metaphorical than real and therefore unable to secure effective checks and balances Though institutionally separated with their own personnel and functions the three powers are ordinarily integrated in a single dominant political leadership committed to achieving the same ideological goals The bill of individual rights cannot guarantee justice because rights are subject to the ideologically driven exercise of judicial interpretation often with damaging consequences for those relying on the bill of rights This situation does not only apply to South Africa but to all Constitutions premised on the same articles of faith in this book described as the doctrine of statist individualist constitutionalism An improved mode of constitutionalism is called for one which is equipped with a sounder system of checks and balances and better endowed towards the achievement of justice through a balanced constitution

Legitimacy, Legal Development and Change David K. Linnan, 2016-04-22 This book addresses critical questions about how legal development works in practice Can law be employed to shape behavior as a form of social engineering or must social behavior change first relegating legal change to follow as ratification or reinforcement And what is legal development's source of legitimacy if not modernization But by the same token whose version of modernization will predominate absent a Western monopoly on change There are now legal development alternatives especially from Asia so we need a better way to ask the right questions of different approaches primarily in non Western Asia Africa the Islamic world plus South America Incoming waves of change like the Arab spring lie on the horizon Meanwhile debates are sharpening about law's role in economic development versus democracy and governance under the rubric of the rule of law More than a general survey of law and modernization theory and practice this work is a timely reference for practitioners of institutional reform and a thought provoking interdisciplinary collection of essays in an area of renewed practical and scholarly interest The contributors are a distinguished international group of scholars and practitioners of law development social sciences and religion with extensive experience in the developing world Forays into Contemporary South African Theatre, 2019-11-11 In the years that followed the end of apartheid South African theatre was characterized by a remarkable productivity which resulted in a process of constant aesthetic reinvention After 1994 the protest theatre template of the apartheid years morphed into a wealth of diverse forms of stage idioms detectable in the works of Greg Homann Mike van Graan Craig Higginson Lara Foot Omphile Molusi Nadia Davids Magnet Theatre Rehane Abrahams Amy Jephta and Reza de Wet to cite only a few prominent examples Marc and Jessica Maufort's multivocal edited volume documents some of the various ways in which the rainbow nation has forged these innovative stage idioms This book's underlying assumption is that creolization reflects the processes of identity renegotiation in contemporary South Africa and their multi faceted theatrical representations Contributors Veronica Baxter Marcia Blumberg Vicki Briault Manus Petrus du Preez Paula Fourie Craig Higginson Greg Homann Jessica Maufort Marc Maufort Omphile Molusi Jessica Murray Jill Planche Ksenia Robbe Mathilde Rogez Chris Thurman Mike van Graan and Ralph Yarrow In The Shadow of Mandela Alexander Johnston, 2019-12-12 This outstanding and original work goes to the heart of South Africa's political problems doubts as to the sustainability of the post apartheid settlement beset with divisions in the ruling ANC factionalism corruption and the widening of fault lines in state and society The leadership issue has become key and this will be the first specific examination of leadership in the light of Mandela's legacy and its effect on his successor as potential and actual leaders all in the shadow of Mandela as the architect of the transition from apartheid to democracy and with overarching moral authority and international reputation Alexander Johnston shows how his successors are judged against Mandela's achievements including the potentially impressive lost leaders and concentrating on his immediate successors Thabo Mbeki and Jacob Zuma The book concludes with an in depth assessment of new president Cyril Ramaphosa's potential to be a leader for a new dawn This is an objective and critical work by a close observer who acknowledges the achievement of South African leadership but is acutely aware of the doubts as to the sustainability of South Africa's hard won democratic settlement. An essential read for all readers interested in leadership and in the traumatic history and future of Africa's leading state as the continent rises to global importance.

The Rise and Fall of Apartheid David Welsh, 2010. On his way into Parliament on 2 February 1990 FW de Klerk turned to his wife Marike and said referring to his forthcoming speech South Africa will never be the same again after this. Did white South Africa crack or did its leadership yield sufficiently and just in time to avert a revolution? The transformation has been called a miracle belying gloomy predictions of race war in which the white minority went into a laager and fought to the last drop of blood. Why did it happen? In The Rise and Fall of Apartheid David Welsh views the topic against the backdrop of a long history of conflict spanning apartheid's rise and demise and the liberation movement's suppression and subsequent resurrection. His view is that the movement away from apartheid to majority rule would have taken far longer and been much bloodier were it not for the changes undergone by Afrikaner nationalism itself. There were turning points such as the Soweto uprising of 1976 but few believed that the transition from white domination to inclusive democracy would occur as soon and as relatively peacefully as it did. In effect however a multitude of different factors led the ANC and the National Party to see that neither side could win the conflict on its own terms. Utterly dissimilar in background, culture, beliefs and political style Nelson Mandela and FW de Klerk were an unlikely pair of liberators. But both soon recognised that they were dependent on each other to steer the transformation process through to its conclusion.

The Bible in Africa Gerald West, Musa Dube, 2021-10-01. Although the arrival of the Bible in Africa has often been a tale of terror, the Bible has become an African book. This volume explores the many ways in which Africans have made the Bible their own. The essays in this book offer a glimpse of the rich resources that constitute Africa's engagement with the Bible. Among the topics are the historical development of biblical interpretation in Africa, the relationship between African biblical scholarship and scholarship in the West, African resources for reading the Bible, the history and role of vernacular translation in particular African contexts, the ambiguity of the Bible in Africa, the power of the Bible as text and symbol, and the intersections between class, race, gender and culture in African biblical interpretation. The book also contains an extensive bibliography of African biblical scholarship. In fact it is one of the most comprehensive collections of African biblical scholarship available in print. This publication has also been published in paperback, please click here for details.

Religion & Reconciliation in South Africa Audrey R. Chapman, Bernard Spong, 2003-04. Postapartheid South Africa's efforts to come to terms with its past, particularly its Truth and Reconciliation Commission's emphasis on forgiveness and reconciliation is of special interest to many in the world community. The Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) led by Archbishop Desmond Tutu was mandated to go beyond truth finding and to promote national unity and reconciliation in a spirit of understanding which transcends the conflict and divisions of the past. In contrast with other truth commissions, the TRC was led by clerics rather than lawyers and judges, and the TRC's approach to reconciliation was shaped by and imbued with religious content. The TRC submitted its final report to the Mandela administration in October 1998. Over the next two years, the Rev. Bernard Spang, former communications director of the South African Council of Churches, conducted a series of in-depth interviews about the TRC with thirty-three key religious figures. In this volume, they discuss and evaluate the following issues: How should we understand the concept of national or political reconciliation and its requirements? What are the differences and similarities between religious and political approaches to reconciliation? Does national or political reconciliation require forgiveness between former victims and perpetrators? What is the appropriate role of religious representatives in a truth commission process? And is it recommended that other countries emulate the South African model? How do religious leaders assess the contributions and limitations of the TRC? What kind of initiatives are contemporary religious communities taking to promote reconciliation among their members and in the wider society? The conversations presented in this volume and the essays interpreting them seek to illuminate issues and questions raised by the TRC model, including how to conceptualize reconciliation and the differences between political and religious approaches.

The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news      The People Shall Govern! Antwan I. Byrd, 2020-10-13

A revelatory and informative presentation of the anti-apartheid posters created by Medu Art Ensemble. Formed in the late 1970s, Medu Art Ensemble forcefully articulated a call to end the apartheid system's racial segregation and violent injustice through posters that combined revolutionary imagery with bold slogans. Advocating for decolonization and majority nonwhite rule in South Africa and neighboring countries, Medu members were persecuted by the South African Defense Force and operated in exile across the border in Botswana. The People Shall Govern! features nearly all the surviving posters that Medu created between 1979 and 1985. These objects are exceedingly rare as they were originally smuggled into South Africa and mounted in public places where they were regularly confiscated or torn down on sight. Offering new insight into the conceptual framework of Medu's working practice and featuring a beautiful silkscreened cover, this volume examines the continuing relevance and impact of its poster production.
