NOTEL

Maintain greatest possible cleanliness during all work with the brake system. Wipe off all pipe and hose connections before they are disconnected. Plug all pipes, hoses, etc. immediately after disconnecting.

If the functional check of the brake system indicates that one or more of the accumulators has insufficient precharge pressure or is missing precharge pressure, each accumulator can be checked individually as follows:

Removing

AWARNING

Even if the engine has been stopped, there remains an accumulated pressure in the brake system of approx. 15 MPa (150 bar) (2175 psi). If the system is opened without first releasing the pressure, oil under high pressure will rush out.

Release the brake system pressure by depressing the brake pedal repeatedly (30-40 times).

2. Carefully remove the connection pipes to the accumulators and plug the connections.

A CAUTION

The brake system may still contain pressure.

3. Remove the accumulators.

Pressure checking

Check the accumulators one at a time.
 Connect the checking equipment according to [Invalid linktarget].
