Les Francophobes Documents:

Le Québec et les francophones de la Nouvelle-Angleterre Dean R. Louder, 1991 Bilan des recherches récentes et en cours de part et d'autre de la frontière canado-américaine suivi de sept témoignages Proceedings / Actes et Documents of the XIXth Session of The Hague Conference on Private International Law The Hague Conference on Private International Law, 2006-10-31 This volume of the Proceedings of the Nineteenth Session of the Hague Conference on Private International Law encompasses all preparatory work and records of meetings which led to the adoption of the Hague Convention on the Law Applicable to Certain Rights in Respect of Securities held with an Intermediary the Hague Securities Convention The signing of this Convention on 5 July 2006 by two of the world's major financial markets the United States and Switzerland shows the relevance of the new treaty Traditional rules based on physical transfers and direct holdings are too diverse and inadequate to deal with securities which are nowadays transferred and pledged by electronic entries to accounts with clearing and settlement systems and other intermediaries By identifying specific conflict rules the Hague Securities Convention provides a means to remedy this lack of legal certainty which has characterized for too long the field of security transactions The Proceedings will enable the financial world but also legal practitioners and academics to grasp the background and full objectives of this very innovative international instrument Sociolinguistics and Contemporary French D. E. Ager, 1990-12-13 This textbook deals with the ways in which French is used in different circumstances and settings in France and abroad with the language attitudes of French speakers and with language policy It is concerned not only with the linguistic data but also the social political and economic environment in which contemporary French is used This is the only up to date introduction to the sociolinguistics of French currently available The exposition is clear and lively and will be welcomed by students and teachers alike Mesurer la francophonie et identifier les francophones Bruno Maurer, 2016-03-07 Cet ouvrage s'adresse tous les chercheurs débutants doctorants ou confirmés qui s'intéressent aux situations multilingues en général et la francophonie en particulier et qui souhaitent mieux connaître ces réalités en allant chercher des données déjà disponibles ou en mettant en œuvre leurs propres recherches La première partie de l'ouvrage consacrée aux sources disponibles présente un catalogue raisonné des institutions qui produisent des données sur les situations de francophonie Le chercheur qui souhaite aller plus loin et s'intéresser un aspect insuffisamment documenté trouvera dans la seconde partie un inventaire critique de l'ensemble des méthodes d'enquêtes effectivement mises en œuvre dont il pourra s'inspirer pour ses propres recherches Cet ensemble inédit qui embrasse la sociolinguistique la lexicologie la démographie la morphosyntaxe la démographie qui traite de la présence des langues sur internet dans les médias locale mais aussi dans les familles dans le monde du travail ou de la production scientifique est un véritable guide de la recherche sur les situations multilingues Il a été produit à l'initiative de l'Observatoire de la langue française de l'Organisation internationale de la francophonie OIF en partenariat avec l'Agence universitaire de la Francophonie AUF et l'Observatoire démographique et statistique de l'espace francophone ODSEF de l'Université Laval Québec et soumis la discussion d'une vingtaine de chercheurs au cours du 2^e Séminaire international sur les méthodologies d'observation de la langue française qui s'est tenu à l'OIF les 2 et 3 octobre 2014 dont il est rendu compte dans la troisième partie du présent ouvrage. Il est précisé de Québec ce qu'un francophone Alexandre Wolff importante mise au point terminologique et méthodologique

Canada's Francophone Minority Communities Michael Derek Behiels, 2004 By the late 1950s Canada's Francophone and Acadian minority communities were in rapid decline. Demographic, economic, socio-cultural, institutional, and political factors that had sustained both the concept and the reality of French Canada for well over a century were being eliminated or transformed at an unprecedented rate. To survive, these beleaguered minority communities set out to conquer the challenges of rebuilding their provincial and national organizations, training a new generation of leaders, redefining their respective provincial and national identities, elaborating new political and constitutional policies and strategies for survival and expansion, and then defending and securing full implementation of these policies and strategies. Growth of their communities revitalized Francophone organizations, and leaders lobbied for constitutional entrenchment of official bilingualism and of a mandated Charter right to education in their own language, including the right to governance over their own schools and school boards. Having achieved their objectives in the 1982 Charter of Rights and Freedoms, Francophone provincial and national leaders learned the techniques of micro-constitutional politics to convince the Ontario, Alberta, and Manitoba provincial governments to implement full and unfettered school governance by and for Francophone minority communities. A collectivist and remedial interpretation to the Charter's official language minority education rights section 23. The Canadian government assisted the Francophone minority in two ways: it made funds available to Francophone organizations and parents via the Court Challenges program, and it signed lucrative financial agreements with the provinces to help defray the additional costs of establishing French language schools and school boards. While the Francophone minority communities were pursuing implementation of their section 23 Charter rights, they found themselves drawn into the mega constitutional negotiations and ratification procedures surrounding the controversial Meech Lake Constitutional Accord (1987-90) and the omnibus Charlottetown Consensus Report (1990-92). During the Quebec Provincial Round, their Charter rights remained intact when the Meech Lake Accord failed to obtain ratification. Conception of a pan-Canadian cultural and linguistic duality which helped minimize the constitutional and political impact of the Quebec government's insistence upon a territorial conception of duality that is an asymmetrical Canada-Quebec federation. When Canadians rejected the Charlottetown deal, neither conception achieved formal constitutional recognition. Nevertheless, Canada's Francophone minority communities were regenerated by the intertwined developments of constitutional renewal and their winning of school governance. A new vigorous Francophone pan-Canadian national community emerged, one capable of ensuring the survival of its constituents communities well into the 21st century.

This document contains the Report and papers presented at the Regional Workshop on Networking for Improved Access to Fisheries and Aquaculture Information in Africa which was held in Grahamstown South Africa from 3 to 7 November 2003. Eighteen participants from Ghana, Guinea, Kenya, Malawi, Mauritania, Nigeria, Seychelles and South Africa attended the Workshop and presented papers. Fisheries library networking activities were reviewed as a basis for planning future collaboration to improve access to fisheries information and to promote information resources sharing. The summary of priority issues includes improved dissemination of African fisheries publications, full text online fisheries journals, open source software, network focal points, the use of standard methodologies to enhance information exchange and technology for document delivery. The long term goal of the network is to strengthen the information capacity at national fisheries institutions in Africa.

Publisher's description Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996. This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people, institutions, organizations, publications, art, literature, languages and history. It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject, genre, type of document and province or territory. Titles of national, provincial, territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available. The contents of the book are indexed four ways: by name, title, French subject and English subject. And to facilitate browsing, the major reference books, those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region, are also cross-referenced. Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages. Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation. The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content, arrangements and indexing of works, the availability of non-print formats, previous editions and title changes and related works. Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers.

Multilingual Life Writing by French and Francophone Women Natalie Edwards, 2019-10-17 This volume examines the ways in which multilingual women authors incorporate several languages into their life writing It compares the work of six contemporary authors who write predominantly in French It analyses the narrative strategies they develop to incorporate more than one language into their life writing French and English French and Creole or French and German for example The book demonstrates how women writers transform languages to invent new linguistic formations and how they create new formulations of subjectivity within their self narrative It intervenes in current debates over global literature national literatures and translingual and transnational writing which constitute major areas of research in literary and cultural studies It also contributes to debates in linguistics through its theoretical framework of translanguaging It argues that multilingual authors create new paradigms for life writing and that they question our understanding of categories such as French literature

Sex, Law, and Sovereignty in French Algeria, 1830-1930 Judith Surkis, 2019-12-15 This is a masterful study of the ways in which sex and law were inextricably intertwined in the elaboration of French rule in Algeria Its great virtue is to demonstrate in careful detail with an impressive range of material from court records to novels exactly how the conquest of Algeria repeatedly challenged the very ideals of the secular universalism in whose name colonization was carried out Joan Wallach Scott author of Sex and Secularism During more than a century of colonial rule over Algeria the French state shaped and reshaped the meaning and practice of Muslim law by regulating it and circumscribing it to the domain of family law while applying the French Civil Code to appropriate the property of Algerians In Sex Law and Sovereignty in French Algeria 1830 1930 Judith Surkis traces how colonial authorities constructed Muslim legal difference and used it to deny Algerian Muslims full citizenship In disconnecting Muslim law from property rights French officials increasingly attached it to the bodies beliefs and personhood Surkis argues that powerful affective attachments to the intimate life of the family and fantasies about Algerian women and the sexual prerogatives of Muslim men supposedly codified in the practices of polygamy and child marriage shaped French theories and regulatory practices of Muslim law in fundamental and lasting ways Women's legal status in particular came to represent the dense relationship between sex and sovereignty in the colony This book also highlights the ways in which Algerians interacted with and responded to colonial law Ultimately this sweeping legal genealogy of French Algeria elucidates how the Muslim question in France became and remains a question of sex

French Investment in Colonial Cameroon Martin-René Atangana, 2009 French Investment in Colonial Cameroon The FIDES Era 1946 1957 analyzes French investments in Cameroon during the era of the program for the development of French colonies known as FIDES It offers not only a description of the economic structures of colonial Cameroon but also an analysis of French public and private investment in Cameroon the Franco Cameroonian economic and financial relationship the contribution of Cameroon to the dynamics of French capitalism and the role played by French capitalism in the economic development of Cameroon It is particularly useful for its detailed financial evaluation and assessment of the various effects of FIDES investment in Cameroon and includes numerous tables and figures French Investment in Colonial Cameroon The FIDES Era 1946 1957 is based on a variety of sources collected in Cameroon France and the United States and will be useful for instructors teaching courses related to colonial modern or contemporary Africa the economic history of Africa and French colonial history and to all interested in these subjects

Land Rights Under Pressure Honorat Edja, 2001 Naturally ! Patrick Boudias, Robert Burbaud, Kristell Corvellec, 2011 Masculinities in Contemporary Africa Egodi Uchendu, 2008-03-15 Although gender and non gender scholars have studied men such an academic exercise requires a critical and focused study of masculine subjects in particular social contexts which is what this book attempts to do This empirically rich collection of essays the seventh of the CODESRIA Gender Series deals with critical examinations of various shades and ramifications of Africa's masculinities and what these portend for the peoples of Africa and for gender relations in the continent So much has changed in terms of notions and expressions of masculinities in Africa since ancient times but many aspects of contemporary masculinities were fashioned during and since the colonial period The papers in this volume were initially discussed at the 2005 month long CODESRIA Gender Institute in Dakar The contributors are gender scholars drawn from various disciplines in the wide fields of the humanities and the social sciences with research interests in the critical study of men and masculinities in Africa The CODESRIA Gender Series aims at keeping alive and nourishing the African social science knowledge base with insightful research and debates that challenge conventional wisdom structures and ideologies that are narrowly informed by caricatures of gender realities The series strives to showcase the best in African gender research and provide a platform for emerging new talents to flower

Writing French Algeria Peter Dunwoodie, 1998-11-26 Writing French Algeria is a groundbreaking study of the European literary discourse on French Algeria between the conquest of 1830 and the outbreak of the Algerian War in 1954 For the first time in English this intertextual reading reveals the debate conducted within Algeria and between colony and metropole that aimed to forge an independent cultural identity for the European settlers Through astute discussions of various texts Peter Dunwoodie maps the representation of Algeria both in the dominant nineteenth century discourse of Orientalism via the literature of writers such as Gautier or Fromentin and in the colonial writing of Louis Bertrand Robert Randau and the Algerianists who played a critical role in the construction of the new Algerian Dunwoodie shows how this ultimate construction relied on an extremely selective process which marginalized the indigenous people of the Maghreb in order to rediscover the country's Latin roots The book also focuses on the dialogism operative in the works of colonial Alger writers like Gabriel Audisio Albert Camus and Emmanuel Roblès interrogating the way in which their voices countered the closure of those earlier strategies and yet still articulated the unresolvable dilemma of an inherently unstable and impermanent minority whose identity remained grounded in otherness
