Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa The Statesman's Yearbook 2015 B. Turner, 2016-12-27 Now in its 151st edition The Statesman's Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions <http://www.statesmansyearbook.com> Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly University on the Border Lis Lange,Vasu Reddy ,Siseko H.

Kumalo,2021-08-27 The volume explores and thinks through the process of decolonising the South African higher education system by examining MustFall The text offers theoretical insights from a historical contemporary and multidisciplinary lens while examining the embedded meanings of the university as an institution idea and set of practices to show the shifts and changes that were inaugurated by MustFall along with the historicities that define the university both locally and globally The retro and prospective insights presented in the book surface the crisis of authority that places the university in a state of precarity which is framed in the book as the border The volume proposes the concept of the border recognising its conceptual and analytical dynamism as a generative space that can facilitate new imaginaries and articulations of this social institution the university Proceedings of The Focus Conference (TFC 2022) Manyane Makua,Mariam

Akinlolu,Mashango Sithole,Phiwayinkosi Gumede,Cebo Nyondo,2023-02-08 This is an open access book It is a common cause globally that the abrupt emergence of Covid 19 wreaked havoc in all sectors including the higher education system The sudden closure of campuses as a social distancing measure to prevent community transmission has shifted face to face classes to online teaching and learning a transformative experiment for academics and students in most institutions This has thrown the focus on utilising Learning Management Systems LMS eLearning tools and platforms for effective student engagement which may have limitations of accessibility and affordability for many students The pandemic has exposed the shortcomings of the current higher education system and the need for more training of academics and practitioners in digital technology to adapt to the rapidly changing educational climate In the post pandemic situation eLearning and virtual education may become an integral part of the higher education system hence the question of re inventing higher education The higher education institutions and universities need to plan the post pandemic education and research strategies to ensure student learning outcomes and standards of educational quality With the move to online teaching and learning subsequently traditional assessments followed and were adapted and adopted for online assessment Assessments lie at the heart of the teaching process It shapes students understanding of the curriculum and determines their ability to progress Reflections on assessments during Covid 19 abounded with the challenges that both academics and students faced regarding online assessments including cheating and quality assurance issues The focus on quality extended to the quality of teaching and learning in general Moreover the pandemic brought about the question of staff and student health and psychosocial support also became important For academics the abrupt shift to adapt to working from home and implementing online learning has led to over work low work life balance and compromised mental health With a view on constructive and futuristic discourse the sub themes of the 2022 Focus conference encapsulate the current realities in the higher education sector and beyond It further provides opportunities for an in depth analysis based on the benefit of hindsight and foresight The Organising Committee specifically coined the theme Re inventing higher education Insights trends and lessons learnt from specifically for the conference to reflect on and address the matters mentioned earlier Academics scholars and practitioners in the higher education sector are called upon to share their research and express their perspectives on the reinvention of higher education

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues

Dare Not Linger Nelson Mandela, Mandla Langa, 2017-10-24 A memoir of Mandela's time in office as the first president of a democratic South Africa completed and expanded with his personal notes and speeches I have discovered the secret that after climbing a great hill one only finds that there are many more hills to climb I have taken a moment here to rest to steal a view of the glorious vista that surrounds me to look back on the distance I have come But I can rest only for a moment for with freedom comes responsibilities and I dare not linger for my long walk is not ended In 1994 Nelson Mandela became the first president of a democratic South Africa From the outset he was committed to serving only a single five year term During his presidency he and his government ensured that all of South Africa's citizens became equal before the law and he laid the foundation for turning a country riven by centuries of colonialism and apartheid into a fully functioning democracy Dare Not Linger is the story of Mandela's presidential years drawing heavily on the memoir he began to write as he prepared to leave office but was unable to finish Now the acclaimed South African writer Mandla Langa has completed the task using Mandela's unfinished draft detailed notes that Mandela made as events were unfolding and a wealth of unseen archival material With a prologue by Mandela's widow Gra Machel the result is a vivid and often inspirational account of Mandela's presidency and the creation of a new democracy It tells the story of a country in transition and the challenges Mandela faced as he strove to make his vision for a liberated South Africa a reality Underneath the history that has been made there is a human being who chose hope over fear progress over the prisons of the past Even as he became a legend to know the man Nelson Mandela is to respect him even more Barack Obama A rare human being who in freeing himself of his demons also became free to give his extraordinarily leadership to his country and the world Bill Clinton A critically important document as the principal firsthand record of Mandela's tumultuous time in office and the often ingenious measures he took to bring about peace the book contains many such practical lessons in governance Essential to students of Mandela's political career as well as of modern African history Kirkus Reviews

Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman, Rómulo Pinheiro, Pundya Pillay, 2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of utmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations South Africa Yearbook ,2009 Belonging without Othering john a. powell,Stephen Menendian,2024-04-23 The root of all inequality is the process of othering and its solution is the practice of belonging We all yearn for connection and community but we live in a time when calls for further division along the well wrought lines of religion race ethnicity caste and sexuality are pervasive This ubiquitous yet elusive problem feeds on fears created inherited of the other While the much touted diversity equity and inclusion initiatives are undeniably failing and activists narrowly focus on specific and sometimes conflicting communities Belonging without Othering prescribes a new approach that encourages us to turn toward one another in unprecedented and radical ways The pressures that separate us have a common root our tendency to cast people and groups in irreconcilable terms or the process of othering This book gives vital language to this universal problem unveiling its machinery at work across time and around the world To subvert it john a powell and Stephen Menendian make a powerful and sweeping case for adopting a paradigm of belonging that does not require the creation of an other This new paradigm hinges on transitioning from narrow to expansive identities even if that means challenging seemingly benevolent forms of community building based on othering As the threat of authoritarianism grows across the globe this book makes the case that belonging without othering is the necessary but not the inevitable next step in our long journey toward creating truly equitable and thriving societies The authors argue that we must build institutions cultivate practices and orient ourselves toward a shared future not only to heal ourselves but perhaps to save our planet as well Brimming with clear guidance sparkling insights and specific examples and practices Belonging without Othering is a future oriented exploration that ushers us in a more hopeful direction
