From German Königsberg to Soviet Kaliningrad Jamie Freeman, 2020-11-10 This book explores how the Soviet Union after capturing and annexing the German East Prussian city of Königsberg in 1945 and renaming it Kaliningrad worked to transform the city into a model of Soviet modernity It examines how the Soviets expelled all the remaining German people repopulated the city and region with settlers from elsewhere in the Soviet Union destroyed the key remaining German buildings and began building a model Soviet city a physical manifestation of the societal transformation brought about by communism However the book goes on to show that over time many of the model Soviet buildings were uncompleted and that the citizens aware of their Polish and Lithuanian neighbours to both the east and the west and appreciating their place in the wider Baltic region came to view themselves as something different from other Soviet and Russian citizens The book concludes by assessing present developments as the people of Kaliningrad are increasingly rediscovering the city's pre Soviet past and forging a new identity for themselves on their own terms

Samuel Ibn Tibbon's Commentary on Ecclesiastes James T. Robinson, 2007 Samuel Ibn Tibbon c 1165-1232 the eminent translator philosopher and exegete is most famous for his Hebrew translation of Maimonides Guide of the Perplexed However he wrote original works as well and laid the foundations for a distinctive philosophical exegetical movement what is today called Maimonideanism James T Robinson's book includes a first English translation of Ibn Tibbon's commentary on Ecclesiastes which was the foundational work of the Maimonidean tradition The translation with full annotation is accompanied by an introduction which provides relevant historical philosophical and exegetical background explains difficult passages and identifies Ibn Tibbon's important contributions to the emergence of Maimonideanism. The author analyzes Ibn Tibbon's sources and influences in Jewish philosophy and exegesis and in Graeco-Arabic philosophy especially al-Farabi and Averroes. He discusses his theory and method of exegesis and explains the main arguments and allegories of the work which relate to the problem of human perfection. Responding to and developing the various positions of his time especially the infamous view of al-Farabi that immortality of the soul is nothing but an old wife's tale, Ibn Tibbon argues that conjunction with the active intellect is possible but rare: only one man in a thousand can attain it. Thus while the elite few should pursue it through a life of study and contemplation, the many should focus on perfection in this world: they should eat, drink, and show the soul good.
