

7. Needless Havoc

AS MAN PROCEEDS toward his announced goal of the conquest of nature, he has written a depressing record of destruction, directed not only against the earth he inhabits but against the life that shares it with him. The history of the recent centuries has its black passages — the slaughter of the buffalo on the western plains, the massacre of the shorebirds by the market gunners, the near-extirmination of the egrets for their plumage. Now, to these and others like them, we are adding a new chapter and a new kind of havoc — the direct killing of birds, mammals, fishes, and indeed practically every form of wildlife by chemical insecticides indiscriminately sprayed on the land.

Under the philosophy that now seems to guide our destinies, nothing must get in the way of the man with the spray gun. The incidental victims of his crusade against insects count as nothing; if robins, pheasants, raccoons, cats, or even livestock happen to inhabit the same bit of earth as the target insects and

The Columbia Documentary History of American Women Since 1941 Harriet Sigerman,2003 Liquid Metal brings together seminal essays that have opened up the study of science fiction to serious critical interrogation Eight distinct sections cover such topics as the cyborg in science fiction the science fiction city time travel and the primal scene science fiction fandom and the 1950s invasion narratives Important writings by Susan Sontag Vivian Sobchack Steve Neale J P Telotte Peter Biskind and Constance Penley are included

An Alternative History of Hyperactivity Matthew Smith,2011-07-01 In 1973 San Francisco allergist Ben Feingold created an uproar by claiming that synthetic food additives triggered hyperactivity then the most commonly diagnosed childhood disorder in the United States He contended that the epidemic should not be treated with drugs such as Ritalin but instead with a food additive free diet Parents and the media considered his treatment the Feingold diet a compelling alternative Physicians however were skeptical and designed dozens of trials to challenge the idea

The resulting medical opinion was that the diet did not work and it was rejected. Matthew Smith asserts that those scientific conclusions were in fact flawed. An Alternative History of Hyperactivity explores the origins of the Feingold diet revealing why it became so popular and the ways in which physicians, parents and the public made decisions about whether it was a valid treatment for hyperactivity. Arguing that the fate of Feingold's therapy depended more on cultural, economic and political factors than on the scientific protocols designed to test it, Smith suggests the lessons learned can help resolve medical controversies more effectively.

Remaking Reality Sara Blair, Joseph B. Entin, Franny Nudelman, 2018-03-15 After World War II U.S. documentarians engaged in a rigorous rethinking of established documentary practices and histories. Responding to the tumultuous transformations of the postwar era, the atomic age, the civil rights movement, the Vietnam War, the emergence of the environmental movement, immigration and refugee crises, student activism, the globalization of labor and the financial collapse of 2008, documentary makers increasingly reconceived reality as the site of social conflict and saw their work as instrumental to struggles for justice. Examining a wide range of forms and media including sound recording, narrative journalism, drawing, photography, film and video, this book is a daring interdisciplinary study of documentary culture and practice from 1945 to the present. Essays by leading scholars across disciplines collectively explore the activist impulse of documentarians who not only record reality but also challenge their audiences to take part in reality's remaking. In addition to the editors, the volume's contributors include Michael Mark Cohen, Grace Elizabeth Hale, Matthew Frye Jacobson, Jonathan Kahana, Leigh Raiford, Rebecca M. Schreiber, Noah Tsika, Laura Wexler and Daniel Worden.

Introduction to Ecological Aesthetics Fanren Zeng, 2019-08-26 This book explores in detail the issues of ecological civilization, development, ecological philosophy, ecological criticism, environmental aesthetics and the ecological wisdom of traditional Chinese culture related to ecological aesthetics. Drawing on Western philosophy and aesthetics, it proposes and demonstrates a unique aesthetic view of ecological ontology in the field of aesthetics under the direct influence of Marxism, which is based on the modern economic, social, cultural development and the modern values of traditional Chinese culture. This book embodies the innovative interpretation of Chinese traditional culture in the Chinese academic community. The author discusses the philosophical and cultural resources that can be used for reference in Chinese and Western cultural tradition, focusing on traditional Chinese Confucianism, Taoism, Buddhism and painting art, Western modern ecological philosophy, Heidegger's ontology, ecological aesthetics and British and American environmental aesthetics. In short, the book comprehensively discusses the author's concept of ecological ontology, aesthetics as an integration and unification of ontology, aesthetics and ecological aesthetics. This generalized ecological aesthetics explores the relationship between humans and nature, society and itself, guided by the brand new ecological worldview in the post-modern context. It also changes the non-beauty state of human existence and establishes an aesthetic existence state that conforms to ecological laws.

Earth Days William Dritschilo, 2004 Earth Days details the events of the revolution in ecology initiated by the publication of Silent Spring from the perspective of someone involved in its events It is a book having to do with ideas and the people who held them Earth Days starts with Rachel Carson and the other writers and scientists whose words caught the attention of the public on Earth Day It tells about the Odum brothers from the corn pone South champions of the ecosystem idea Robert MacArthur the James Dean of ecology and Jared Diamond who tried to be his successor and in the effort set off a war in ecology It tells about Dan Simberloff who rebelled against the science inspired by his own mentors in that war It tells about Paul Ehrlich and David Pimentel for whom no environmental issue was beyond their expertise It also tells about Gene Likens who looked and acted more like an insurance salesman yet found a way through the swirling controversies in his science to put it to good practical use There are of course many others each trying to find their own personal way in the broad important science that is ecology Earth Days details that revolution from the perspective of someone involved in its events It also gives the reader the necessary background to follow the most technical material Difficult material becomes easy lively reading Howard V Cornell University of Delaware Fantastic It kept me up all night I couldn't put it down Nicholas Gotelli University of Vermont It is very lively and fun to read Daniel Simberloff University of Tennessee an excellent and engaging writer appears to be a really major and interesting book David Pimentel Cornell University fantastic job of writing to capture the views of numerous ecologists Gene Likens New York Botanical Garden I learned some things about myself

Reading Nature John Seibert Farnsworth, 2025-03-01 Reading Nature highlights the ten books that most influenced the scope and direction of literary natural history in the United States It explores how American nature writing came to focus on the deep observation of wild landscapes and how the genre evolved over 163 years beginning with the publication of Henry David Thoreau's Walden in 1854 The volume also examines Mary Austin's Land of Little Rain 1903 John Burroughs's Ways of Nature 1905 Aldo Leopold's A Sand County Almanac 1949 Rachel Carson's The Sea around Us 1951 Edward Abbey's Desert Solitaire 1968 Annie Dillard's Pilgrim at Tinker Creek 1974 Terry Tempest Williams's Refuge 1991 Robin Wall Kimmerer's Braiding Sweetgrass 2013 and J Drew Lanham's The Home Place 2016 This book features a series of close readings exploring how these authors transformed popular understanding of the natural world

Post-Apocalyptic Environmentalism Carl Cassegård, Håkan Thörn, 2022-10-21 This book analyses how the environmental movement has developed three overarching narratives that co exist and compete within it The first is the narrative of green progress which has been prominent from the start in environmentalist thought and which is today expressed in the idea of sustainable development and in eco modernism The second is the apocalyptic narrative which urges us to act in order to avert a future catastrophe and which rose to prominence with Rachel Carson and other classics of post war environmentalism and experienced a renaissance with the climate activism of the 2000s The third is the postapocalyptic narrative according to which catastrophe is already an unavoidable fact The centrepiece of the book is its discussion of the postapocalyptic narrative which has become influential in the recent decade especially in the wake of the disillusionment following the failed climate summit in Copenhagen 2009 Climate change resource exhaustion pollution and species extinction signal that catastrophes have already become realities here and now for an enormous number of people and other lifeforms The book probes the possibilities and limitations of the environmental movement in grappling with these issues and turning them into relevant action
