During the course of the experiment, people identified and remembered words that they saw, as well as words that were written on their bodies. In addition, they identified words that were written on their bodies, even when they were not looking at the words. This suggests that people can learn to read words without seeing them, and that they can learn to read words without seeing them.

There are some questions on Part 1a. Write questions to focus on a short passage, to help with the read aloud on page 1. Write carefully. Below each passage, and with some background information on English.com. There you will have the passage in Spanish now. After you have heard the passage for the first time, you will have the questions in English now. The questions to write prepared in your test booklet. After you have heard the questions, you will have about thirty seconds before writing the answers. During that time, read the questions and the four suggested answers in your test booklet. Choose the best suggested answer on the basis of the information provided in the passage and write the number in the space provided in your answer booklet. You should not write the questions and the suggested answers in this notebook during the passage. This will allow you to give all your attention to what you hear. All right. Now.
