Haake, 2020-10-12 In The Politics of Print During the French Wars of Religion Gregory Haake examines how in late sixteenth century France authors and publishers used the new medium of the printed text to control the terms of public discourse and determine history or at least their narrative of it The creativity of the Renaissance ushered in new instability of discourse and a decline of traditional centres of authority Gregory Haake shows that poets authors printers and polemicists including historians such as Simon Goulart the great poets of the time such as Pierre de Ronsard or Agrippa d'Aubign or anonymous authors of polemical texts rushed in to take advantage of discursive uncertainty to discredit their enemies and shape the meaning of history as it unfolded Alphabetical and Analytical Catalogue of the New York Society

 Destruction of Cultural Heritage in 19th Century France examines the fate of the building stock and prominent ruins of France especially Roman survivals in the 19th century supported by contemporary documentation and archives largely provided through the publications of scholarly societies The book describes the enormous extent of the destruction of monuments providing an antidote to the triumphalism and concomitant amnesia which in modern scholarship routinely present the 19th century as one of concern for the past It charts the modernising impulse over several centuries detailing the archaeological discoveries made and usually destroyed as walls were pulled down and town interiors re planned plus the brutal impact on landscape and antiquities as railways were laid out Heritage was largely scorned and identity found in
