Historians often use a variety of research techniques, including archival research, oral history, and comparative analysis. Archival research involves examining physical or digital records stored in archives, libraries, or other repositories. Oral history collects personal testimonies and memories from individuals who experienced past events. Comparative analysis compares different historical events or periods to identify similarities and differences. For example, comparing the American Revolution and the French Revolution can reveal insights into the nature of revolutionary movements (Jones, 2050).
