Are Parents Really the Best Teachers?

Quite obviously, the very first teachers in our lives are our very own parents. After all, they are the very ones who taught us how to speak, walk, and show good manners before reaching the 'real world'. They offer a different type of teaching which is even more than professional teachers in school. In general, they are the ones who are most involved in the overall education and development of children.

There is no doubt that our parents are our best teachers, right from the start of our lives. This also corresponds to the role that our parents play by nature. They are the most involved and committed when it comes to teaching their children. They make good use of instinct in sacrificing a huge part of themselves in order to improve the lives of their children. Unlike teachers at school, they show unselfish love, passing on knowledge to us.

On the other hand, they may also not be the best professional teachers since they may turn out to be biased because of their love to their children. Wishing a good life and good things may actually prevent children from maturing well. With this, what parents usually offer is their viewpoint of the world. However, good teaching needs to be based on various attitudes. As a result, as children go to school and deal with the diversity of their teachers, they often end up learning more than what their parents can possibly offer them.

At the same time, once the parents grow older, they turn out to become more and more conservative, and may not be objective all the time with regard to modern fashions and trends. In conclusion, while our parents may not be our ideal teachers, they are unquestionably the most committed among all teachers.
