Hrc Peer Review Manual:

Handbook of Culturally Responsive School Mental Health Caroline S. Clauss-Ehlers, Zewelangi N. Serpell, Mark D. Weist, 2012-12-09 Schools across the United States as well as much of the world are experiencing widespread change. Students are more diverse ethnically, academically, and emotionally. More attention is being paid to abuse and neglect, violence, and bullying, and the growing inequities that contribute to student dropout. Within this changing landscape, cultural competence is imperative for school-based professionals, both ethically and as mandated by educational reform. The Handbook of Culturally Responsive School Mental Health explores the academic and behavioral challenges of an increasingly diverse school environment, offering workable, cost-effective solutions in an accessible, well-organized format. This timely volume updates the research on cultural competence in school-based interventions, describes innovative approaches to counseling and classroom life, and demonstrates how this knowledge is used in successful programs with children, adolescents, and their families. Populations covered range widely from African American and Asian American/Pacific Islander families to forced migrants and children who live on military bases. By addressing issues of training and policy as well as research and practice, contributors present a variety of topics that are salient, engaging, and applicable to contemporary experience, including: Adolescent ethnic/racial identity development; Culturally responsive school mental health in rural communities; Working with LGBT youth in school settings; Cultural competence in work with youth gangs; Culturally integrated substance abuse prevention and sex education programs; Promoting culturally competent school-based assessment; School-based behavioral health care in overseas military bases; Developmental, legal, and linguistic considerations in work with forced migrant children; Cultural considerations in work/family balance. The Handbook of Culturally Responsive School Mental Health is a must-have reference for researchers, scientists, practitioners, educational policymakers, and graduate students in child and school psychology, educational psychology, pediatrics, school nursing, social work, counseling therapy, teaching, and teacher education, and educational administration.

argues that despite its limitations the UPR mechanism with its inclusive cooperative and collaborative framework is an important human rights mechanism with the potential to evolve over time into an effective cooperative tool for monitoring human rights implementation Divided into three parts the first part focuses on exploring a variety of theoretical approaches to understanding the UPR mechanism The second part examines specific human rights themes and the relationship between the UPR mechanism and other international mechanisms Finally the third part questions implementation and the ways in which states regional groupings have engaged with the UPR mechanism and what lessons can be learned for the future The volume will be a valuable resource for researchers academics and policymakers working in the area of international human rights law international organizations and international relations We would like to acknowledge the UPR Academic Network UPRAN for bringing together the experts on this project and the University of Stirling for providing funds to facilitate open access dissemination for parts of this output The Introduction and Chapter 6 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license
