Building Science Jens Pohl,2020-09-14 With the improved efficiency of heating cooling and lighting in buildings crucial to the low carbon targets of all current governments Building Science Concepts and Applications provides a timely and much needed addition to the existing literature on architectural and environmental design education Taking a logical and didactic approach the author introduces the reader to the underlying concepts and principles of the thermal lighting and acoustic

determinants of building design in four integrated sections The first section explores the thermal building environment and the principles of thermal comfort translating these principles into conceptual building design solutions The author examines the heat flow characteristics of the building envelope and explains steady state design methods that form the basis of most building codes He discusses the sun as a natural heat source and describes the principles of active and passive solar building design solutions The second section introduces the scientific principles of light color and vision stressing the importance of daylight in building design presenting the Daylight Factor design concept and methodology and discussing glare conditions and their avoidance It also addresses artificial lighting delving into the prominent role that electricity plays in the production of light by artificial means and comparing the efficacy and characteristics of the various commercially available light sources in terms of the energy to light conversion ratio life span available intensity range color rendition properties and cost The third section deals with the various aspects of sound that impact the design of the built environment discussing the nature of sound as a physical force that sets any medium through which it travels into vibration and laying the foundations for the treatment of sound as an important means of communication as well as a disruptive disturbance The final section discusses the foundational concepts of ecological design as a basis for addressing sustainability issues in building design solutions These issues include the embedded energy of construction materials waste management preservation of freshwater and management of graywater adoption of passive solar principles energy saving measures applicable to mechanical building services and the end of lifecycle deconstruction and recycling of building materials and components Covers the fundamental building science topics of heat energy light and sound Takes a logical and didactic approach tracing the historical roots of building science Includes summaries of new technologies in solar energy and photovoltaic systems Features a section on the principles of sustainable architecture Website with answers to MC questions testing students learning

Landscape Design in Color Mira Engler, 2022-12-27 Architects landscape architects and urban designers experiment with color and lighting effects in their daily professional practice Over the past decade there has been a reinvigorated discussion on color within architectural and cultural studies Yet scholarly enquiry within landscape architecture has been minimal despite its important role in landscape design This book posits that though color and lighting effects appear natural fleeting and difficult to comprehend the sensory palette of built landscapes and gardens has been carefully constructed to shape our experience and evoke meaning and place character Landscape Design in Color History Theory and Practice 1750 to Today is an inquiry into the themes theories and debates on color and its impact on practice in Western landscape architecture over the past three centuries Divided into three key periods each chapter in the book looks at the use of color in the written and built work of key prominent designers The book investigates thematic juxtapositions such as natural and artificial color and line design and draftsmanship sensation and concept imitation and translation deception and display and decoration and structure and how these have appeared faded disappeared and reappeared throughout the ages Richly designed and illustrated in full color

throughout including color palettes this book is a must have resource for students scholars and design professionals in landscape architecture and its allied disciplines , Color Ontology and Color Science Jonathan Cohen, Mohan Matthen, 2010-05-21 Leading philosophers and scientists consider what conclusions about color can be drawn when the latest analytic tools are applied to the most sophisticated color science Philosophers and scientists have long speculated about the nature of color Atomists such as Democritus thought color to be conventional not real Galileo and other key figures of the Scientific Revolution thought that it was an erroneous projection of our own sensations onto external objects More recently philosophers have enriched the debate about color by aligning the most advanced color science with the most sophisticated methods of analytical philosophy In this volume leading scientists and philosophers examine new problems with new analytic tools considering such topics as the psychophysical measurement of color and its implications the nature of color experience in both normal color perceivers and the color blind and questions that arise from what we now know about the neural processing of color information color consciousness and color language Taken together these papers point toward a complete restructuring of current orthodoxy concerning color experience and how it relates to objective reality Kuehni Jameson Mausfeld and Niederee discuss how the traditional framework of a three dimensional color space and basic color terms is far too simple to capture the complexities of color experience Clark and MacLeod discuss the difficulties of a materialist account of color experience Churchland Cohen Matthen and Westphal offer competing accounts of color ontology Finally Broackes and Byrne and Hilbert discuss the phenomenology of color blindness Contributors Justin Broackes Alex Byrne Paul M Churchland Austen Clark Jonathan Cohen David R Hilbert Kimberly A Jameson Rolf Kuehni Don I A MacLeod Mohan Matthen Rainer Mausfeld Richard Nieder e Jonathan Westphal Pacific Coast Architect ,1927
