Mealeys Litigation Report 1 07:

Mealey's Litigation Reports, 1994 Suing the Tobacco and Lead Pigment Industries Donald G. Gifford, 2010-06-02

The topic how tort law evolved over time into a system that allowed for a moment at least a parens patriae form of massive litigation against corporations is exceedingly interesting and important Gifford's treatment of this topic is highly informative engaging insightful very current and wise David Owen Carolina Distinguished Professor of Law and Director of Tort Law Studies University of South Carolina In Suing the Tobacco and Lead Pigment Industries legal scholar Donald G Gifford recounts the transformation of tort litigation in response to the challenge posed by victims of 21st century public health crises who seek compensation from the product manufacturers Class action litigation promised a strategy for documenting collective harm but an increasingly conservative judicial and political climate limited this strategy Then in 1995 Mississippi attorney general Mike Moore initiated a parens patriae action on behalf of the state against cigarette manufacturers Forty five other states soon filed public product liability actions seeking both compensation for the funds spent on public health crises and the regulation of harmful products Gifford finds that courts through their refusal to expand traditional tort claims have resisted litigation as a solution to product caused public health problems Even if the government were to prevail the remedy in such litigation is unlikely to be effective Gifford warns furthermore that by shifting the powers to regulate products and to remediate public health problems from the legislature to the state attorney general parens patriae litigation raises concerns about the appropriate allocation of powers among the branches of government Donald G Gifford is the Edward M Robertson Research Professor of Law at the University of Maryland School of Law Fulltext Sources Online, 2007-07 Asbestos Litigation Stephen J. Smoke-Filled Rooms W. Kip Viscusi, 2010-02-15 The 1998 out of court settlements of litigation by the states against the cigarette industry totaled 243 billion making it the largest payoff ever in our civil justice system Two key questions drove the lawsuits and the attendant settlement Do smokers understand the risks of smoking And does smoking impose net financial costs on the states With Smoke Filled Rooms W Kip Viscusi provides unexpected answers to these questions drawing on an impressive range of data on several topics central to the smoking policy debate Based on surveys of smokers in the United States and Spain for instance he demonstrates that smokers actually overestimate the dangers of smoking indicating that they are well aware of the risks involved in their choice to smoke And while smoking does increase medical costs to the states Viscusi finds that these costs are more than financially balanced by the premature mortality of smokers which reduces their demands on state pension and health programs so that on average smoking either pays for itself or generates revenues for the states Viscusi's eye opening assessment of the tobacco lawsuits also includes policy recommendations that could frame these debates in a more productive way such as his suggestion that the FDA should develop a rating system for cigarettes and other tobacco products based on their relative safety thus providing an incentive for tobacco manufacturers to compete among themselves to produce safer cigarettes Viscusi's hard look at the facts of smoking and its costs runs against conventional thinking But it is also necessary for an informed and realistic debate about the legal financial and social consequences of the tobacco lawsuits People making 50 000 or more pay 08 percent of their income in cigarette taxes but people with incomes of less than 10 000 pay 1 62 percent twenty times as much The maintenance crew at the Capitol will bear more of the sin tax levied on cigarettes than will members of Congress who voted to boost it Cigarettes are not a financial drain to the U S In fact they are self financing as a consequence of smokers premature mortality The general public estimates that 47 out of 100 smokers will die from lung cancer because they smoke Smokers believe that 40 out of 100 will die of the disease Scientists estimate the actual number of 100 smokers who will die from lung cancer to be between 7 and 13

After neutrality and international enforcement the next most valued feature of international commercial arbitration is confidentiality For reasons easy to imagine businessmen do not want their trade secrets business plans strategies contracts financial results or any other types of business information to be publicly accessible as would commonly happen in court proceedings Yet the case law of arbitration shows that in practical terms confidentiality is not to be taken for granted in fact it has become one of the most undetermined matters in international arbitration Although the emperor of arbitration may have clothes as one scholar has quipped his raiments of secrecy can be torn with surprising ease This book deciphers the current degree of confidentiality in international commercial arbitration as reflected by the most important arbitration rules national laws other arbitration related enactments and practices of arbitral tribunals and domestic courts globally Drawing on this data and analysis the author then sets forth criteria to assess the breach of confidentiality in international arbitration and the proper rules for protecting or sanctioning such breaches What do we understand by confidentiality in arbitration What are its limitations Who is bound to observe it How can we quantify its breach In addressing these questions the book engages such issues as the following reasons for disclosure e g for the establishment of a defence for the enforcement of rights in the public interest or in the interests of justice disclosure by consent express or implied circumstances triggering statutory obligation of disclosure recent trends towards greater transparency in investor State arbitration court measures in support of arbitral confidentiality such as award of damages for breach of confidentiality and categories of persons bound by confidentiality including third parties such as witnesses and experts Structured along the main stages of the arbitral process the analysis covers the duty of confidentiality from the initiation of arbitral proceedings through their unfolding to the issuance of the award and after The scope of confidentiality is reviewed in the practice of arbitral tribunals and domestic courts and from the perspective of international arbitration institutions with detailed attention to various arbitration rules and numerous significant cases In its elucidation of the amount of confidentiality that veils each phase of the arbitral process and its ground breaking identification of patterns of disclosure this book is sure to raise awareness about the various facets and problems posed by confidentiality in arbitration Although its scholarly contribution to the law of international commercial arbitration cannot be gainsaid corporate counsel worldwide will quickly prize its more practical value Annotated Commercial Crime Policy Cole Stephen Kain, Lana M.
