Annotation This series helps teachers use the imaginative ideas in children's books for math lessons. Organized into four grade level collections to respond to teachers' specific classroom needs, this series includes favorite lessons based on a wide variety of children's books. Teachers will appreciate these books for the enjoyment and excitement they bring to math instruction. With introductions by Marilyn Burns, these books include vignettes of lessons and samples of student work. These lessons based on popular children's books address major mathematical topics such as addition, subtraction, multiplication, geometry, algebraic thinking, number sense, and place value.

How Chinese Teach Mathematics: Perspectives From Insiders Lianghuo Fan, Ngai-ying Wong, Jinfa Cai, Shiqi Li, 2015-03-13. This unique book represents another concerted research effort concerning Chinese mathematics education with contributions from the world's leading scholars and most active researchers. The book presents the latest original research work with a particular focus on the teaching side of Chinese mathematics education to a wide international audience. There are mainly three sections in the book. The first section introduces readers to a historical and contemporary perspective respectively on traditional mathematical teaching in ancient China and on how modern Chinese mathematics teachers teach and pursue their pre-service training and in-service professional development. The second section presents studies investigating a wide range of issues at both the macro and micro levels on how Chinese mathematics teachers teach mathematics. The third section focuses on Chinese mathematics teachers investigating issues about their knowledge, belief, teacher training, and professional development. Like its predecessor How Chinese Learn Mathematics: Perspectives from Insiders, this book is a must for educational researchers, practitioners, and policy makers who are interested in knowing more about mathematics teaching, teachers' teacher education, and professional development concerning Chinese teachers and learners.
