W. Emerson,2018-03-16 In Nature Emerson lays out and attempts to solve an abstract problem that humans do not fully accept nature s beauty He writes that people are distracted by the demands of the world whereas nature gives but humans fail to reciprocate The essay consists of eight sections Nature Commodity Beauty Language Discipline Idealism Spirit and Prospects Each section takes a different perspective on the relationship between humans and nature In the essay Emerson explains that to experience the wholeness with nature for which we are naturally suited we must be separate from the flaws and distractions imposed on us by society Emerson believed that solitude is the single mechanism through which we can be fully engaged in the world of nature writing To go into solitude a man needs to retire as much from his chamber as from society I am not solitary whilst I read and write though nobody is with me But if a man would be alone let him look at the stars When a person experiences true solitude in nature it take s him away Society he says destroys wholeness whereas Nature in its ministry to man is not only the material but is also the process and the result All the parts incessantly work into each other s hands for the profit of man The wind
