A timely complement to John Bruer's Schools for Thought Classroom Lessons documents eight projects that apply cognitive research to improve classroom practice The chapter authors are all principal investigators in an influential research initiative on cognitive science and education Classroom Lessons describes their collaborations with classroom teachers aimed at improving teaching and learning for students in grades K 12 The eight projects cover writing mathematics history social science and physics Together they illustrate that principles emerging from cognitive science form the basis of a science of instruction that can be applied across the curriculum The book is divided into three sections applications of cognitive research to teaching specific content areas applications for learning across the curriculum and applications that challenge traditional concepts of classroom based learning environments Chapters consider explicit models of knowledge with corresponding instruction designed to enable learners to build on that knowledge acquisition of specified knowledge and what knowledge is useful in contemporary curricula Contributors Kate McGilly Sharon A Griffin Robbie Case and Robert S Siegler Earl Hunt and Jim Minstrell Kathryn T Spoehr Howard Gardner Mara Krechevsky Robert J Sternberg and Lynn Okagaki Irene W Gaskins The Cognition and Technology Group at Vanderbilt Marlene Scardamalia Carl Bereiter and Mary Lamon Ann L Brown and Joseph C Campione John T Bruer A Bradford Book Too Simple to Fail R. Barker Bausell, 2010-11-01 Too Simple to Fail presents a startling dissection of what is wrong with our educational system and a set of simple common sense steps for improving it Here Bausell demonstrates that classroom instruction is hopelessly obsolete as are our current testing practices both contributing to the widening opportunity gap between socioeconomic and racial groups But with an understanding of what is wrong with education today comes the revelation that the answer to these deficiencies has been available to us all along in the form of the tutorial model the most effective instructional paradigm ever developed The new model presented in this book has implications for identifying not only what is wrong with the way we educate our young but also why it is wrong and how the educational process can be made more efficient effective and fair
