Logistics Product Data LCLS Life Cycle Logistics Supportability, 2019 SAE GEIA

STD 0007C defines logistics product data generated during the requirement definition and design of an industry or government system end item or product. It makes use of the Extensible Markup Language XML through the use of entities and attributes that comprise logistics product data and their definitions. The standard is designed to provide users with a uniform set of data tags for all or portions of logistics product data. The standard can be applied to any industry or government product system or equipment acquisition program, major modification program, and applicable research and development projects. This standard is for use by both industry and government activities. As used in this standard, the requiring authority is generally the customer and the customer can be a government or industry activity. The performing activity may be either a industry or government activity. The use of the term contract in this standard includes any document of agreement between organizations. This standard has been revised to incorporate several Logistics Product Data LPD enhancements and to improve the efficiency of LPD exchange transactions. The changes include new entities and attributes to capture reliability analyses results, a redesigned schema, the ability to extend the core entities, and expanding definitions to allow international values.

Disciplinary Convergence in Systems Engineering Research Azad M. Madni, Barry Boehm, Roger G. Ghanem, Daniel Erwin, Marilee J. Wheaton, 2017-11-24. The theme of this volume on systems engineering research is disciplinary convergence, bringing together concepts, thinking, approaches, and technologies from diverse disciplines to solve complex problems. Papers presented at the Conference on Systems Engineering Research CSER, March 23-25, 2017, at Redondo Beach, CA, are included in this volume. This collection provides researchers in academia, industry, and government forward-looking research from across the globe, written by renowned academic, industry, and government researchers.
