Dead Black Bird in a Furnace Danielle

Sainte-Marie,2011-08-01 Delving into her traumatic past with intense thoughtful free ranging and sometimes classic poetic verse Danielle Sainte Marie lays bare the deepest darkest parts of her soul in this timeless collection that she says is Just the tip of the iceberg of my pain there s a lot more to come If you are queasy easily offended or not ready to face your own fears and traumas do not buy this poetry book It is only intended for a select crowd of those rare few whom embrace the dark in order to bask in the light Feelings unexplored and unexpressed largely create your viewpoint of the world if you are not keeping your feelings current by expressing them when they arise then that means you are never living in the moment Rather you are living in a world where your feelings are always trying to catch up to your current reality thus you live in past hurts that were not revealed in a timely manner

Sapphism on Screen Lucille Cairns,2006-03-30 This book sets out to investigate and theorise mediations of lesbian desire in a substantial corpus of films spanning the period 1936 2002 by male and female directors working in France and also in French speaking parts of Belgium Canada Switzerland and Africa The corpus is unique in never before having been assembled and represents a valuable tool not just for researchers but also for university teachers creating courses both on lesbianism in film and on sexuality in French cinema A fair number of the 89 texts treated are mainstream films which have achieved high critical acclaim and or high viewing figures to cite just a few examples Henri Georges Clouzot s Quai des orfèvres 1947 Louis Malle s Milou en mai 1989 Claude Chabrol s La Cereemonie 1995 Andre Techine s Les Voleurs 1995 and Francois Ozon s Huit femmes 2001 As such they have contributed to hegemonic constructions of and debate on female homosexuality in a century wherein sexed gendered identity including sexual orientation has become a preeminent factor in the constitution of subjectivity While such constructions and debate have a French language specificity and have been produced in distinct socio political and cultural contexts this study also engages in analytical comparisons with relevant anglophone films and their own distinct discursive contexts
