in the Casual Light of Day Tijana Stojkovic, 2013-10-23 Larkin's poems are often regarded as falling somewhere between the traditional plain and the more contemporary postmodern categories. This study undertakes a comprehensive linguistic and historical study of the plain style tradition in poetry, its relationship with so-called difficult poetry and its particular realization in the cultural and historical context of 20th-century Britain. The author examines the nature of poetry as a type of discourse, the elements of and factors in the development of literary styles, a close rhetorical examination of Larkin's poems within the described poetic frameworks and his position in the British twentieth-century poetic canon. As in his Booker-winning novel Last Orders, Swift transforms ordinary lives through extraordinary storytelling. This new novel from Graham Swift, his first since the Booker Prize-winning Last Orders, is the work of a master storyteller. The Light of Day is a luminous and gripping tale of love, murder, and redemption. George Webb is a divorced ex-policeman turned private investigator, a man whose prospects seemed in ruins not so long ago. Following the course of a single dazzling day in George's life, the novel illuminates not only his past but his now, all-consuming relationship with a former client. Intimate and intricate in its evocation of daily existence, The Light of Day achieves a singular intensity and almost unbearable suspense. Tender and humorous in its depiction of life's surface, Swift explores the depths and extremities of what lies within us and how, for better or worse, it's never too late to discover what they are. Excerpt from The Light of Day: Two years ago and a little more. October still, but a day like today, blue and clear and crisp. Rita opened my door and said, 'Mrs Nash, I was already on my feet buttoning my jacket. Most of them have no comparisons to go on; it's their first time. It must feel like coming to a doctor. They expected something shabbier, seedier, more shaming. The tidy atmosphere, Rita's doing, surprises and reassures them. And the vase of flowers, white chrysanthemums. I recall Mrs Nash please have a seat. I could be some high street solicitor. A fountain pen in my fingers. Doctor, solicitor, marriage guidance counsellor. You have to be a bit of all three. The usual look of plucked-up courage swallowed back.
