Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-04-14 Creativity and Innovation in Times of Crisis (COVID-19) Roni

Reiter-Palmon, Min Tang, Zorana Ivcevic, 2022-04-06 The Lean Mindset Mary B. Poppendieck, Thomas David

Poppendieck, 2014. Explores the efficiency of companies when using a lean mindset. Provides advice on energising teams and creating sustainable efficiency to provide better services and products. Anamuah-Mensah, George Sefa Dei, Kolawole Raheem, 2014-07-11. There is no term so heavily contested in social science literature nomenclature than Development. This book brings Indigenous perspectives to African development. It is argued that contrary to development as we know it, not working a greater part of the problem is that conventional development approaches that work have in fact not truly been followed to the letter and hence the quagmire. All this is ironic since everything we do about our world is development. So how come there is difficult knowledge when it comes to learning from what we know, i.e. what local peoples do and have done for centuries as a starting point to reconstructing and reframing development. In getting our heads around this paradox, we are tempted to ask more questions: How do we as African scholars and researchers begin to develop home-grown solutions to our problems? How do we pioneer new analytical systems for understanding our communities and offer a pathway to genuine African development, i.e. Indigenist African development? See also Yankah 2004. How do we speak of Indigenist development mindful of global developments and entanglements around us? Can we afford to pursue development still mired in a catch-up scenario? Are we in a race with the development world and where do we see this race ending or where do we define as the finishing line? A Publication of the Centre for School and Community Science and Technology Studies, SACOST, University of Education, Winneba, Ghana. Children, Childhood, and the Future Andrea Kleeberg-Niepage, 2020-01-10. Although most of the world's children live in the Global South, much of the corpus of scientific knowledge which forms the basis of the current notion of good childhood worldwide is drawn from research on Western middle-class children. Even cross-cultural research often applies the Western model of childhood as the standard to which others must correspond. This volume serves to bridge this gap by both bringing up significant features of the development and socialisation of children in African countries and presenting cross-cultural procedures which help to discuss and develop differentiated and joint ideas about childhood instead of implementing one-sided standards which are disconnected from most children's lives.
