Pathological Lives Steve Hinchliffe, Nick Bingham, John Allen, Simon Carter, 2016-12-21. Pandemics, epidemics, and food-borne diseases are a major global challenge. Focusing on the food and farming sector and mobilising social theory as well as empirical enquiry, Pathological Lives investigates current approaches to biosecurity and asks how pathological lives can be successfully regulated without making life more dangerous as a result. Uses empirical and social theoretical resources developed in the course of a 40-month research project entitled Biosecurity borderlands. Focuses on the food and farming sector where the generation and subsequent transmission of disease has the ability to reach pandemic proportions. Demonstrates the importance of a geographical and spatial analysis, drawing together social, material, and biological approaches as well as national and international examples. The book makes three main conceptual contributions: reconceptualising disease as situated matters; the spatial or topological analysis of situations; and a reformulation of biopolitics. Uniquely brings together conceptual development with empirically and politically informed work on infectious and zoonotic disease to produce a timely and important contribution to both social science and to policy debate.
