The time seems ripe for a critical compendium of that segment of the biological universe we call viruses Virology as a science having passed only recently through its descriptive phase of naming and nomenclature has probably reached that stage at which relatively few new truly new viruses will be discovered Triggered by the intellectual probes and techniques of molecular biology genetics bio chemical cytology and high resolution microscopy and spectroscopy the field has experienced a genuine information explosion Few serious attempts have been made to chronicle these events This comprehensive series which will comprise some 6000 pages in a total of about 18 volumes represents a commitment by a large group of active investigators to analyze digest and expostulate on the great mass of data relating to viruses much of which is now amorphous and disjointed and scattered throughout a wide literature In this way we hope to place the entire field in perspective and to develop an invaluable reference and sourcebook for researchers and students at all levels This series is designed as a continuum that can be entered anywhere but which also provides a logical progression of developing facts and integrated concepts Erythrocytes, Thrombocytes, Leukocytes Eckehart Gerlach,1973 Viral Cytopathology Heinz

Mechanisms of Viral Pathogenesis A. Kohn, P. Fuchs, 2012-12-06 Venezuelan equine encephalitis VEE virus was first isolated in 1938 by Kubes and Rios 1 from the brain of a horse which died during an epizootic of a previously unrecognized disease in Venezuela VEE related viruses were subsequently isolated during the period of 1943-1963 in Venezuela Colombia Peru Trinidad Brazil Surinam Argentina Panama Mexico and the United States 2 Shope et al 3 first defined the viruses in the VEE complex 1 except showing serological relationships between classical VEE lucambo and Pixuna viruses Young and Johnson 2 serologically characterized a variety of VEE isolates and proposed that the complex be divided into four subtypes I, II, III, and IV. Viruses in subtype I were divided into five variants designated IA through IE. During 1969-1971 a VEE epizootic epidemic occurred in South America Central America and the United States involving a subtype LAB virus which caused high mortality among equines and humans. 4 Venezuelan equine encephalitis viruses are alpha togaviruses which contain a positive strand single-stranded RNA genome enclosed in an icosahedral nucleocapsid. The virion has an envelope which contains three glycoproteins E2 of 57 kDa, gp56 and E1 of 60 kDa, gp50. 5 Viral neutralization and hemagglutination HA sites have been placed on E2 by the use of monospecific rabbit antisera and monoclonal antibodies specific for purified viral structural proteins 7-10. Only anti-E2 antisera neutralized virus infectivity or blocked virus hemagglutination.
