Part A : Seen Comprehension

Read the passage below and answer the questions 1 – 4 :

Statistics show that about 350 million people speak English as a first language and another 300 million use it as a second language. It is the official or semi-official language in more than 60 countries and of many international organisations. The International Olympic Committee, for example, always holds meetings in English. English helps the international community and business world to communicate across national borders. Today, more than 80% of all the information in the world's computers is in English, so organisations frequently need employees who speak and write a standard form of English. In fact some companies provide English language training for their staff. It is therefore little wonder that job advertisements nowadays often ask for a 'good working knowledge' of English. Many believe now that English usually helps them to get good jobs and better salaries.

Cambridge Checkpoints HSC Standard English 2017 Mel Dixon, Kate Murphy, Amy Hughes, 2016-06-28 Linguistic Communities and Migratory Processes Karen P. Corrigan, 2020-09-07 This interdisciplinary book is the first in an Irish context to address issues connected with the super diversifying of language and society engendered by recent and historical migrations. It analyses novel data from interviews with allochthonous and autochthonous groups of monolingual and plurilingual youngsters living in Northern Ireland. A key aim is to test models within second language acquisition and language variation and change research. Another goal is to examine the extent to which distinctive migratory trends generated changes in the language ecologies of communities on the island of Ireland as well as globally in regions where the Irish settled intensively from the 1700s. The book also compares contemporary migratory experiences with historical records to further our understanding of the dynamics of identification through language across time. The first ever book devoted to all aspects of the sociolinguistics of globalization and migration in Northern Ireland will be welcomed by scholars interested in the consequences for ethnolinguistic vitality of large scale population movements. It could not be more timely given the fact that 2.5 million sought asylum in Europe alone during 2016 greatly enhancing its diversity A Holistic Home-School-Community Model for Learning Chinese Language Tse Shek Kam, Laing Victor, 2021-09-28 This book contains the compilation of studies from a 5 year project aimed at improving the Chinese teaching and learning as a second language for non Chinese speaking preschoolers in Hong Kong. In this project a home school community model was used in an attempt to address the teaching and learning of Chinese for non Chinese speaking preschoolers moving from a traditional school centred teaching approach to a holistic approach. This allows them to learn in the same space and environment on the same topics creating an inclusive classroom that does not compromise the teaching and learning of Chinese for both local and non Chinese speaking preschoolers. Issues such as medium of instruction language progression silent period multicultural teaching assistants multilingual learning facilitators parent changes and effective teaching are studied and discussed.
