Islam and China's Hong Kong Wai-Yip Ho, 2013-06-07 Hong Kong is a global city state under the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China and is home to around 250 000 Muslims practicing Islam. However, existing studies of the Muslim majority communities in Asia and the Northwest China largely ignore the Muslim community in Hong Kong. Islam and China's Hong Kong skillfully fills this gap and investigates how ethnic and Chinese speaking Muslims negotiate their identities and the increasing public attention to Islam in Hong Kong. Examining a range of issues and challenges facing Muslims in Hong Kong, this book focuses on the three different diasporic Muslim communities and reveals the city state's triple Islamic heritage and distinctive Islamic culture. It begins with the transition from the colonial to the post colonial era and explores how this has impacted on the experiences of the Muslim diaspora and the ways this shift has compelled the community to adapt to Chinese nationalism whilst forging greater links with the Gulf. Then, with reference to the rise of new media and technology, the book examines the heightened presence of Islam in the Chinese public sphere alongside the emergence of Chinese Islamic websites which have sought to balance transnational Muslim solidarity and sensitivity towards Chinese government's concern of external extremism. Finally, it concludes by investigating Hong Kong's growing awareness of the Muslim minorities' demands for Islamic religious education and how this links with the city state's aspiration to become the new gateway for Islamic finance. Indeed, Wai Yip Ho posits that Hong Kong is now shifting from its role as the broker that bridged East and West during the Cold War to that of a new mediator between China and the Middle East. Drawing on extensive ethnographic research, this book thoughtfully charts a new area of inquiry and as such will be welcomed by students and scholars of Chinese studies, Islamic studies, Asian studies and ethnicity studies.

Islam in International Relations Nassef Manabilang Adiong, Raffaele Mauriello, Deina Abdelkader, 2018-11-02 Islam in International Relations: Politics and Paradigms analyses the interaction between Islam and IR. It shows how Islam is a conceptualization of ideas that affect people's thinking and behaviour in their capacity to relate with IR as both discipline and practice. This approach challenges Western based and defined epistemological and ontological foundations of the discipline and by doing so contributes to worlding IR as a field of study and practice by presenting and discussing a broad range of standpoints from within Islamic civilization. The volume opens with the presentation and discussion of the international thought of a major Muslim leader, followed by a chapter that addresses the ethical practice of IR from traditional pacifism to modern Arab political philosophy. It then switches to applying constructivism as a tool to understand Islam in world affairs and proceeds to address the issue of how the ethnocentric approach of Western academia has hindered our understanding of world affairs. The volume moves on to address the ISIS phenomenon, a current urgent issue in world affairs, and closes with a look at Islamic geopolitics. This comprehensive collection will be of great interest to students, scholars and policy makers with a focus on the Muslim world.

Islam as Critique Khurram Hussain, 2019-09-05

What would it mean to imagine Islam as an immanent critique of the West Sayyid Ahmad Khan lived in a time of great tribulation for Muslim India under British rule By examining Khan s work as a critical expression of modernity rooted in the Muslim experience of it Islam as Critique argues that Khan is essential to understanding the problematics of modern Islam and its relationship to the West The book re imagines Islam as an interpretive strategy for investigating the modern condition and as an engaged alternative to mainstream Western thought Using the life and work of nineteenth century Indian Muslim polymath Khan 1817 1898 it identifies Muslims as a viable resource for both critical intervention in important ethical debates of our times and as legitimate participants in humanistic discourses that underpin a just global order Islam as Critique locates Khan within a broader strain in modern Islamic thought that is neither a rejection of the West nor a wholesale acceptance of it The author calls this Critical Islam By bringing Khan s critical engagement with modernity into conversation with similar critical analyses of the modern by Reinhold Niebuhr Hannah Arendt and Alasdair MacIntyre the author shows how Islam can be read as critique

Islam and the Arab Revolutions Usaama Al-Azami, 2022-05-01 The Arab revolutions of 2011 were a transformative moment in the modern history of the Middle East as people rose up against long standing autocrats throughout the region to call for bread freedom and dignity With the passage of time results have been decidedly mixed with tentative success stories like Tunisia contrasting with the emergence of even more repressive dictatorships in places like Egypt with the backing of several Gulf states Focusing primarily on Egypt this book considers a relatively understudied dimension of these revolutions the role of prominent religious scholars While pro revolutionary ulama have justified activism against authoritarian regimes counter revolutionary scholars have provided religious backing for repression and in some cases the mass murder of unarmed protestors Usaama al Azami traces the public engagements and religious pronouncements of several prominent ulama in the region including Yusuf al Qaradawi Ali Gomaa and Abdullah bin Bayyah to explore their role in either championing the Arab revolutions or supporting their repression He concludes that while a minority of noted scholars have enthusiastically endorsed the counter revolutions their approach is attributable less to premodern theology and more to their distinctly modern commitment to the authoritarian state

The Muslim Speaks Khurram Hussain, 2020-10-29 The Muslim Speaks

reimagines Islam as a strategy for investigating the modern condition Rather than imagining it as an issue external to a discrete West Khurram Hussain constructs Islam as internal to the elaboration and expansion of the West In doing so he reveals three discursive traps that of freedom reason and culture that inhibit the availability of Islam as a feasible critical interlocutor in Western deliberations about moral intellectual and political concerns Through close examination of this inhibition Hussain posits that while Islamophobia is clearly a moral wrong depoliticization more accurately describes the problems associated with the lived experience of Muslims in the West and elsewhere Weaving together his conclusions in the hope of a common world Khurram Hussain boldly and quite radically deems that what Islam needs is not depoliticization but infact repoliticization
