Meccan Trade And The Rise Of Islam:

Meccan Trade and the Rise of Islam Patricia Crone, 2004 Patricia Crone reassesses one of the most widely accepted dogmas in contemporary accounts of the beginnings of Islam the supposition that Mecca was a trading center In addition she seeks to elucidate sources on which we should reconstruct our picture of the birth of the new religion in Arabia Meccan Trade Prior to the Rise of Islam Salamah Salih Sylayman Aladieh, 1991 The Formation of Islam Jonathan P. Berkey, 2003 Jonathan Berkey's 2003 book surveys the religious history of the peoples of the Near East from roughly 600 to 1800 CE The opening chapter examines the religious scene in the Near East in late antiquity and the religious traditions which preceded Islam Subsequent chapters investigate Islam's first century and the beginnings of its own traditions the classical period from the accession of the Abbasids to the rise of the Buyid amirs and thereafter the emergence of new forms of Islam in the middle period Throughout close attention is paid to the experiences of Jews and Christians as well as Muslims The book stresses that Islam did not appear all at once but emerged slowly as part of a prolonged process whereby it was differentiated from other religious traditions and indeed that much that we take as characteristic of Islam is in fact the product of the medieval period Meccan Trade and Islam Róbert Simon, 1989 Global Trade in the Early Medieval World Toslima Khatun, 2025-02-18 Exploring the movement of peoples perfumes and spices across vast distances in this period of medieval history across Asia the Middle East and Europe this book examines the role of Arab merchants in trade between and among the Caliphal and Carolingian elites The study of the trade in perfumes and spices highlights the relationship between the South Asian subcontinent and the Caliphate It is shown that the societies involved in this intercontinental maritime trade intermingled through the demand for goods and products which allowed for the transmission of ideas and learning Crucially the Eurasian end of these trading routes were tapping into pre existing networks of trade as there is evidence that there were links of trade between East Asia and the near and Middle East as early as the seventh century B H first century A D Thus the book challenges the Eurocentric worldview which fails to take into account that the Europeans in the late medieval period came into a pre existing trading network This book will be of interest to readers in economic history as well as the history of trade globalisation South Asia the Middle East and the Medieval world Lingua Franca in the Mediterranean J. E.

Wansborough, 2013-12-16 The subject of this study is the language of commerce and diplomacy during the period from 1500 BCE to 1500 CE Based on texts of chancery provenance its aim is the identification of a linguistic sub system that effected and informed the major channel of international relations The standard procedures of contact and exchange generated a format that facilitated inter lingual transfer of concepts and terms Lingua Franca refers to the several natural languages that served as vehicle in the transfer but also to the format itself The Arabs and Arabia on the Eve of Islam F.E.

Peters, 2017-09-29 This volume examines the background to the rise of Islam The opening essays consider the broad context of nomad sedentary relations in the Near East thereafter the focus is on the Arabian peninsula and the history of the Arab peoples The following papers set out the political and economic structures of the pre Islamic period and are concerned to trace the evolution of religious beliefs in the area looking in particular at the role of local traditions and the impact of Jewish and Christian influences

Land and Trade in Early Islam Hugh Kennedy, Fanny Bessard, 2025-01-20 Land and Trade in Early Islam discusses the latest developments in the field of early Islamic economic and social history and explores the notion of polycentrism and the dialectic between global and local between 700 and 1050 CE The volume explores the political mechanisms and the role of Islamic states in regulating and developing demand in the economy The chapters question the binary of core periphery and demonstrate how the growing scholarship on the liminal regions of the Caliphate has transformed our understanding of the early Islamic world by offering a more nuanced picture of its regional urban and socio economic dynamics Changes in the peripheries of the early medieval Caliphate have traditionally been conceived as resulting from initiatives by the core An increased focus on the comparatively under explored regions in central Asia north Africa south east Asia and the Caucasus has thrown this into question Land and Trade in Early Islam draws on this growing body of scholarship to question the notion of peripherality explore lines of economic influence and interdependence and to better understand the regional economic social and political dynamics of this period
