

My Ideal City

The presented picture depicts my Ideal City called Greenhills. Literally, it is filled with green trees and plants as it is known to be the most eco-friendly city in town.

It is a democratic city wherein everyone is treated fair and free. Enjoyed their rights and has laws and orders that protect and making sure their safety. It has 13,000 inhabitants with more than 5,000 square kilometre land area. What makes it unique is that every establishment like buildings, houses and etc. are required to have at least 3 trees planted in their area. In that way even if this city will continue to grow, develop and change by technology, we can still make sure that our children or the future generation will have a green, fresh and healthy city that they can enjoy and live in.

It is my ideal city because in reality it is what we need right now. Throughout the year, our environment's health has been declining and we experienced the consequences. Global warming is one of them. As a human, we should engrave in our mind that we only have one earth. That it can live without humans, but we can't live without it. That's why we should be mindful in our actions, because that will save our earth, our home from dying.

The RAVEN Essays John Borrows, Dawn Hoogeveen, Max Ritts, Sue Smitten, 2025-05-31

Named after the Respecting Aboriginal Values and Environmental Needs RAVEN nonprofit organization, The RAVEN Essays is an anthology that celebrates a decade of prize-winning student essays. Since 2012, RAVEN has awarded an annual essay prize to honour students who champion the vital importance of Indigenous rights and self-determination both in Canada and globally. The essays featured in this collection highlight exceptional student work while reflecting on the evolving relationship between Indigenous politics and academia. From issues like fishing rights and the Trans Mountain Pipeline to challenges of sexism and conservation policy, these essays capture a transformative period in Indigenous struggles, offering insights that resonate far beyond the Canadian settler state. The anthology also includes contributions from prominent scholars such as Glen Coulthard, Dara Culhane, Michael Fabris, Sarah Hunt, and Heather Dorries. Five complementary essays explore various aspects of structural change, institutional constraints, and broader commitments to Indigenous knowledge within university settings. Aimed at readers in Indigenous law, environmental studies, anthropology, and geography, The RAVEN Essays is a book created by students for students and by academics for the academy. Together, the contributors reflect on the powerful formation and enactment of Indigenous law, environmental stewardship, place-based knowledge, pedagogy, and literacy both within the academy and in the broader community across land, water, and culture.
