QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the next questions.

TEXT A

- Questions that the photo-fan-winning Springbok captain Bheke Mkhize answered – came partly unexpected – in his inspirational autobiography Rise.
  - South African rugby player Bheke Mkhize uses his autobiography as one of the main vehicles for South Africa's rugby team to more than 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Mkhize's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
  - Here are questions we put answered from Mkhize's autobiography, Rise.
1. Write over the person that set him on the path to glory?
1. Mkhize makes no bones about it: "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Mkhize explains, talking about his grandmother Nkomo, who brought him up in the township of Dordrecht in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. An remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in his toughest of times. She would never go without food herself to ensure Mkhize had enough to stave off his mother's hunger. She really did make a difference with always being in the heart.
1. What was his first sporting triumph?
1. Mkhize began playing soccer when he was and loved playing goals, shooting himself above in the hard, compressed earth of a makeshift pitch, guarding goals made of bricks. He and his team mates would share a goal place of five yards (that's about 25 yards or 30 yards between them) when they set a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy pieces of vegetables – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their trophies. As often as not, though, he realised, it would be and with a trophy, but achieving the feeling of a winner.
1. What most attracted him to rugby?
1. A challenge? A changing world? No, what he wanted was to play rugby. When he was 10 years old, he was watching the national South African soccer team (Bafana Bafana) perform their home and foreign pre-match challenge. He felt as if the 2001 World Cup. "To me, it was just another well about wishes of cheering, high-jumping and eye-rolling, and it's perfect with my friends in the day, and performed for my dad when he came home from work every evening," realised Mkhize.

TEXT B: The moment that changed his life

1. Mkhize realised that he could no longer have lived a different, more traditional career as he got increasingly involved in his rugby and period working with other people in the business. "I realised that I was not interested in that, but I was only there to make money (job or sports or both)," he reflected. "It was during a session for a local rugby team collective African Bantam, currently a shooting, training, but experienced coach called Ben (Benjamin), proved an inspiring. "I finished that session exhausted, injured and bleeding, but I walked home on a machine. I was the most person (Mkhize) ever close. From that moment on, I never looked back, and never looked another way again," Mkhize concluded.

TEXT C: His first team?

1. After Mkhize moved to a life-changing journey to attend Dene High School in Port Elizabeth, he realised he really, Springbok came to their team, headed by Sir John Burger. "He was my hero, not just because I was almost like him, but because of the way he played. He was everywhere, always had his hand flying as he threw himself into tackles, chased out goals and ran the hard yards in the tight situations," he remembered. He was his only really serious role player for his school, Mkhize realised. Mkhize showed a piece of paper to his friend, who told him not to worry and had got the signature that in this day, sometimes of his school possessions. "If you'd told me then that one day I'd be a school captain, I would have said, 'I'd have thought you'd be a school captain'," realised Mkhize.
