most famous medical institution in Canada In addition to being the largest pediatric centre in North America it has earned an international reputation for clinical care and research that has influenced generations of health care practitioners across the country and around the world In a very real sense hospital staff have touched the lives of tens of thousands of children and their families SickKids has an equally remarkable history from its humble origins in rented houses in Victorian Toronto the Hospital would flourish to become an influential paediatric institution pioneering Pasteurization the Iron Lung for Polio Pabulum the Mustard Procedure for Blue Babies and the discovery of the gene for Cystic Fibrosis It would also be the site of two of most famous medical controversies in modern Canadian history the suspected murder of two dozen babies in the early 1980s and more recently the whistle blowing controversy involving the research scientist Nancy Olivieri David Wright s History of The Hospital for Sick Children chronicles this remarkable history of the SickKids including its triumphs and tragedies its discoveries and dead ends In doing so Wright has crafted a compelling and accessible history of SickKids that anchors Toronto s children s hospital within the broader changes affecting Canadian society and medical practice over the last century Catalog, Educational Motion Pictures ,1980 Autophagy in Tissue Injury and Homeostasis Pei-Hui

Lin,2020-12-15 Autophagy auto digestion a lysosome dependent process degrades and turns over damaged or senescent organelles and proteins Autophagy is a highly regulated process that impacts several vital cellular responses including inflammation cell death energy metabolism and homeostasis of organelles mitochondria and others Although the role of autophagy in the maintenance of tissue homeostasis is well documented its role during tissue injury and regeneration is still emerging In this Special Issue on Autophagy in Tissue Injury and Homeostasis we focus on the roles of autophagy in systemic specific tissue organs cells injury or organ failure associated with sepsis inflammation metabolic disorder toxic chemicals ischemia reperfusion injury hypoxic oxidative stress tissue fibrosis trauma and nutrient starvation The knowledge gained from the identification and characterization of new molecular mechanisms will shed light on biomedical applications for tissue protection through the modulation of autophagy Homeland Security, its Law and its State Christos

Boukalas,2014-03-26 This book assesses the impact of post 9 11 domestic counterterrorism policy on US political life It examines political discourse law institutional architecture and state population relations and shows that homeland security is a project with wide ranging implications for democratic institutions and culture These implications are addressed through a novel approach that treats law and the state as social relations and relates developments in law to those in the state and in social dynamics On this basis the book examines the new political representations in counterterrorism discourse especially regarding the relation between the state and the population It examines the form and content of counterterrorism law the powers it provides and the structure and functions it prescribes for the state By focusing on the new Department of Homeland Security and the restructuring of the intelligence apparatus the book assesses the new intelligence led policing model Finally it examines forms of popular support and resistance to homeland security to discuss citizenship and state population relations The author concludes that homeland security has turned the US into a hybrid polity the legal and political institutions of democracy remain intact but their content and practices become authoritarian and exclude the population from politics These legal and political forms remain operative beyond counterterrorism in the context of the present economic crisis They are a permanent configuration of power This book is an indispensable companion for students of counter Terrorism and Security Studies Politics Human Rights Constitutional and Criminal Law American Studies and Criminology From Genome to Proteome Michael J.
